Restablishment of the right of access.

The first paragraph does not apply where access to the information or the disclosure of the fact that the information was communicated under any of sections 69.0.0.12 to 69.0.0.14 would no longer hinder the progress of an investigation or of proceedings, disclose a method of investigation, a confidential source of information, a program or a plan of action designed to prevent, detect or repress crime or statutory offences, endanger a person, prejudice the interest of a person who is the source or the subject of the information, disclose the components of a communications system intended for the use of a person responsible for law enforcement, disclose information obtained in confidence from a police force having jurisdiction outside Québec, prejudice the fair hearing of a person’s case or impair the efficiency of a security system designed for the protection of persons or property, in particular a witness protection program.

(h) to allow the Deputy Minister or a person designated by the Deputy Minister to make any verification or inquiry relating to the confidentiality of the information communicated.

1991, c. 64, Title One.1, Chap. I-IV, aa. 521.1-521.19, added.

27. The said Code is amended by inserting the following Title after article 521 :

“TITLE ONE.1

“CIVIL UNION

“CHAPTER I

“FORMATION OF CIVIL UNION

“521.1. A civil union is a commitment by two persons eighteen years of age or over who express their free and enlightened consent to live together and to uphold the rights and obligations that derive from that status.

A civil union may only be contracted between persons who are free from any previous bond of marriage or civil union and who in relation to each other are neither an ascendant or a descendant, nor a brother or a sister.

“521.2. A civil union must be contracted openly before an officiant competent to solemnize marriages and in the presence of two witnesses.

No minister of religion may be compelled to solemnize a civil union to which there is an impediment according to the minister’s religion and the discipline of the religious society to which he or she belongs.

“521.3. Before proceeding with a civil union, the officiant ascertains the identity of the intended spouses as well as compliance with the conditions for the formation of a civil union and observance of the formalities prescribed by law.

The solemnization of a civil union is subject to the same rules, with the necessary modifications, as are applicable to the solemnization of a marriage, including the rules relating to prior publication.

“521.4. Any interested person may oppose a civil union between persons incapable of contracting a civil union.

A minor may act alone to oppose a civil union.

“521.5. A civil union is proved by an act of civil union, except where another mode of proof is authorized by law.

Possession of the status of civil union spouses compensates for a defect of form in the act of civil union.

“CHAPTER II*“CIVIL EFFECTS OF CIVIL UNION

“521.6. The spouses in a civil union have the same rights and obligations.

They owe each other respect, fidelity, succour and assistance.

They are bound to live together.

The effects of the civil union as regards the direction of the family, the exercise of parental authority, contribution towards expenses, the family residence, the family patrimony and the compensatory allowance are the same as the effects of marriage, with the necessary modifications.

Whatever their civil union regime, the spouses may not derogate from the provisions of this article.

“521.7. A civil union creates a family connection between each spouse and the relatives of his or her spouse.

“521.8. A civil union regime may be created by and any kind of stipulation may be made in a civil union contract, subject to the imperative provisions of law and public order.

Spouses who, before the solemnization of their civil union, have not so fixed their civil union regime are subject to the regime of partnership of acquests.

Civil union regimes, whether legal or conventional, and civil union contracts are subject to the same rules as are applicable to matrimonial regimes and marriage contracts, with the necessary modifications.

“521.9. If spouses cannot agree as to the exercise of their rights and the performance of their duties, they or either of them may apply to the court, which will decide in the best interests of the family after fostering conciliation of the parties.

“CHAPTER III*“NULLITY OF CIVIL UNION

“521.10. A civil union which is not contracted in accordance with the prescriptions of this Title may be declared null upon the application of any interested person, although the court may decide according to the circumstances.

No action lies after the lapse of three years from the solemnization, except where public order is concerned.

“521.11. The nullity of a civil union entails the same effects as the nullity of a marriage.

“CHAPTER IV

“DISSOLUTION OF CIVIL UNION

“521.12. A civil union is dissolved by the death of either spouse. It is also dissolved by a court judgment or by a notarized joint declaration where the spouses’ will to live together is irretrievably undermined.

“521.13. The spouses may consent, by way of a joint declaration, to the dissolution of the civil union provided they settle all the consequences of the dissolution in an agreement.

The declaration and the agreement must be executed before a notary and recorded in notarial acts en minute.

The notary may not execute the declaration before the agreement is recorded in a notarized transaction contract. The notary must inform the spouses beforehand of the consequences of the dissolution and make sure that they truly consent to the dissolution and that the agreement is not contrary to imperative provisions of law or public order. If appropriate, the notary may provide information to the spouses on any available conciliation services.

“521.14. The transaction contract specifies the date on which the net value of the family patrimony is established. The date may not be earlier than the date of the joint procedure for the dissolution of the civil union or the date on which the spouses ceased living together, or later than the date of the execution of the contract before a notary.

“521.15. The joint declaration dissolving a civil union states the names and domicile of the spouses, their places and dates of birth and the place and date of solemnization of the union; it also indicates the places and dates of execution of the transaction contract and of the declaration as well as the minute number given to each of those acts.

“521.16. From the date of their execution before a notary and without further formality, the joint declaration dissolving the civil union and the transaction contract have the effects of a judgment dissolving a civil union.

In addition to being notified to the registrar of civil status, the notarized declaration must be sent to the depositary of the original civil union contract and to the depositary of any contract modifying the civil union regime established by the original contract. The depositary is bound to make a reference to the joint declaration of dissolution on the original of the contract and on any copy issued, specifying the date of the declaration, the minute number and the name and address of the notary who executed the declaration.

The notarized declaration and transaction must also be sent to the Régie des rentes du Québec.

A notice of the notarized declaration must be entered in the register of personal and movable real rights on the application of the executing notary.

“521.17. In the absence of a joint declaration dissolving the civil union executed before a notary or where the interests of the common children of the spouses are at stake, the dissolution of the union must be pronounced by the court.

The court must ascertain that the spouses’ will to live together is irretrievably undermined, foster conciliation and see to the interests of the children and the protection of their rights. During the proceeding, the court may determine provisional measures, as in the case of separation from bed and board.

Upon or after pronouncing the dissolution, the court may order one of the spouses to pay support to the other, decide as to the custody, maintenance and education of the children, in their best interests and with due regard for their rights, and in keeping with any agreements made between the spouses.

“521.18. The dissolution of a civil union does not deprive the children of the advantages secured to them by law or by the civil union contract.

The rights and obligations of parents towards their children are unaffected by the dissolution of the union.

“521.19. The dissolution of a civil union entails the dissolution of the civil union regime. Between the spouses, the effects of the dissolution of the regime are retroactive to the day of the death, the day of execution of the joint declaration of dissolution before a notary or, if the spouses so stipulated in the notarized transaction, the day on which the net value of the family patrimony is established. If the dissolution is pronounced by the court, its effects are retroactive to the day of the application to the court, unless the court makes them retroactive to the day on which the spouses ceased living together.

Dissolution, otherwise than by death, entails the lapse of gifts mortis causa made by one spouse to the other in consideration of the civil union. It does not entail the lapse of other gifts mortis causa or of gifts inter vivos between the spouses in consideration of the union, except that the court may, upon pronouncing the dissolution, declare such gifts lapsed or reduce them, or order the payment of gifts inter vivos deferred for such time as it may fix.”

1991, c. 64, a. 525, am. 28. Article 525 of the said Code is amended

(1) by inserting “or a civil union between persons of opposite sex” after “marriage” in the first paragraph;

(2) by replacing “the dissolution or annulment of the marriage” in the English text of the first paragraph by “its dissolution or annulment”;

(3) by replacing “husband” in the first paragraph by “spouse”;

(4) by striking out “the husband’s” in the second paragraph;

(5) by inserting “of married spouses” after “separation from bed and board” in the second paragraph;

(6) by replacing the last paragraph by the following paragraph:

“The presumption is also rebutted in respect of the former spouse if the child born is within three hundred days of the dissolution or annulment of the marriage or civil union, but after a subsequent marriage or civil union of the child’s mother.”

1991, c. 64, a. 535, am.

29. Article 535 of the said Code is amended by inserting “or civil union spouse” after “husband” in the second paragraph.

1991, c. 64, Title Two, Chap. I, Sect. III, aa. 538-542, replaced, Chap. I.1, added.

30. The said Code is amended by replacing Section III of Chapter I of Title Two by the following chapter:

“CHAPTER I.1

“FILIAION OF CHILDREN BORN OF ASSISTED PROCREATION

“538. A parental project involving assisted procreation exists from the moment a person alone decides or spouses by mutual consent decide, in order to have a child, to resort to the genetic material of a person who is not party to the parental project.

“538.1. As in the case of filiation by blood, the filiation of a child born of assisted procreation is established by the act of birth. In the absence of an act of birth, uninterrupted possession of status is sufficient; the latter is established by an adequate combination of facts which indicate the relationship of filiation between the child, the woman who gave birth to the child and, where applicable, the other party to the parental project.

This filiation creates the same rights and obligations as filiation by blood.

“538.2. The contribution of genetic material for the purposes of a third-party parental project does not create any bond of filiation between the contributor and the child born of the parental project.

However, if the genetic material is provided by way of sexual intercourse, a bound of filiation may be established, in the year following the birth, between the contributor and the child. During that period, the spouse of the woman who gave birth to the child may not invoke possession of status consistent with the act of birth in order to oppose the application for establishment of the filiation.

“538.3. If a child is born of a parental project involving assisted procreation between married or civil union spouses during the marriage or the civil union or within three hundred days after its dissolution or annulment, the spouse of the woman who gave birth to the child is presumed to be the child’s other parent.

The presumption is rebutted if the child is born more than three hundred days after the judgment ordering separation from bed and board of the married spouses, unless they have voluntarily resumed living together before the birth.

The presumption is also rebutted in respect of the former spouse if the child is born within three hundred days of the termination of the marriage or civil union, but after a subsequent marriage or civil union of the woman who gave birth to the child.

“539. No person may contest the filiation of a child solely on the grounds of the child being born of a parental project involving assisted procreation. However, the married or civil union spouse of the woman who gave birth to the child may contest the filiation and disavow the child if there was no mutual parental project or if it is established that the child was not born of the assisted procreation.

The rules governing actions relating to filiation by blood apply with the necessary modifications to any contestation of a filiation established pursuant to this chapter.

“539.1. If both parents are women, the rights and obligations assigned by law to the father, insofar as they differ from the mother’s, are assigned to the mother who did not give birth to the child.

“540. A person who, after consenting to a parental project outside marriage or a civil union, fails to declare his or her bond of filiation with the child born of that project in the register of civil status is liable toward the child and the child’s mother.

“541. Any agreement whereby a woman undertakes to procreate or carry a child for another person is absolutely null.

“542. Nominative information relating to medically assisted procreation is confidential.

However, where the health of a person born of medically assisted procreation or of any descendant of that person could be seriously harmed if the person were deprived of the information requested, the court may allow the information to be transmitted confidentially to the medical authorities concerned. A descendant of such a person may also exercise this right where the health of that descendant or of a close relative could be seriously harmed if the descendant were deprived of the information requested.”

- 1991, c. 64, a. 555, am. 31. Article 555 of the said Code is amended by replacing “of the spouse or the concubinary of the father or mother, if they have been cohabiting as concubinaries” by “of the spouse of the father or mother. However, in the case of de facto spouses, they must have been cohabiting”.
- 1991, c. 64, a. 577, am. 32. Article 577 of the said Code is amended
- (1) by replacing “his” in the English text of the first and second paragraphs by “his or her”;
  - (2) by inserting “or a civil union” after “marriage” in the second paragraph.
- 1991, c. 64, a. 578, am. 33. Article 578 of the said Code is amended
- (1) by inserting “or civil union” after “marriage” in the second paragraph;
  - (2) by replacing “his” in the English text of the second paragraph by “his or her”.
- 1991, c. 64, a. 578.1, added. 34. The said Code is amended by inserting the following article after article 578:
- “578.1. If the parents of an adopted child are of the same sex and where different rights and obligations are assigned by law to the father and to the mother, the parent who is biologically related to the child has the rights and obligations assigned to the father in the case of a male couple and those assigned to the mother in the case of a female couple. The adoptive parent has the rights and obligations assigned by law to the other parent.
- If neither parent is biologically related to the child, the rights and obligations of each parent are determined in the adoption judgment.”
- 1991, c. 64, a. 579, am. 35. Article 579 of the said Code is amended
- (1) by replacing “his” wherever it appears in the English text of the first paragraph by “his or her”;
  - (2) by striking out “or concubinary” in the second paragraph.

- 1991, c. 64, a. 654, am. 39. Article 654 of the said Code is amended by replacing “of his matrimonial rights and benefits” by “of his or her rights and benefits by reason of the marriage or civil union”.

“CHAPTER IV

“CASE MANAGEMENT

“SECTION I

“AGREEMENT BETWEEN PARTIES AS TO CONDUCT OF PROCEEDING

“151.1. Before the date indicated in the notice to the defendant for presentation of the action or application, the parties, except impleaded parties, must negotiate an agreement as to the conduct of the proceeding, specifying the arrangements between them and the timetable with which they are to comply within the 180-day peremptory time limit.

Any person impleaded in the motion to institute proceedings who wishes to take part in the negotiation of the agreement determining the proceeding timetable must notify the parties within five days of service of the motion. Otherwise, the person is presumed not to wish to do so.

The agreement must cover, among other things, the preliminary exceptions and safeguard measures, the procedure and time limit for the communication of exhibits, written statements in lieu of testimony and detailed affidavits, the number and length of and other conditions relating to examinations on discovery before the filing of the defence, expert appraisals, any planned or foreseeable incidental proceedings, the oral or written form of the defence and, in the case of a written defence, the time limit for its filing as well as the time limit for filing an answer, if one is to be filed. The agreement must be filed without delay at the office of the court, no later than the date fixed for presentation of the action or application.

“151.2. The agreement is binding on the parties as to the conduct of the proceeding. The parties may modify the agreement, insofar as the modification does not contravene the 180-day peremptory time limit. If there is a disagreement between the parties, the court may, on request, authorize any modification it considers appropriate.

“151.3. The parties must comply with the timetable they have set under pain of the penalty prescribed by this Code or, in the absence thereof, of dismissal of the action or application, striking of the allegations involved or foreclosure, as appropriate. However, the judge may, on request, relieve a defaulting party from default if required in the interest of justice; the costs resulting from the default are borne by the party concerned, unless the judge decides otherwise.

“SECTION II*“PRESENTATION OF ACTION OR APPLICATION

“151.4. The action or application is presented before the court on the date indicated in the notice to the defendant, unless an agreement was made by the parties before that date as to the conduct of the proceeding.

The date of presentation may not be less than 30 days from the date of service, except where mutually agreed by the parties or where otherwise prescribed by law or decided by the court in an urgent situation.

If the action or application is to be presented jointly, the date of presentation is set in agreement with the clerk.

“151.5. Subject to article 159 and any agreement between the parties, all preliminary exceptions must be raised orally at the time of presentation of the action or application. The exceptions may only be contested orally, although the court may allow the parties to present the necessary evidence.

Moreover, the defendant must present an oral summary of the grounds of the defence.

“151.6. At the time of presentation of the action or application, the court may, after examining the questions of law or fact at issue,

(1) if the defence is to be oral and the parties are ready to proceed, hear the merits of the case, or otherwise determine the date of the hearing or order that the case be placed on the roll ;

(2) hear the contested preliminary exceptions, or defer the hearing of exceptions to a date determined by the court ;

(3) determine the number and length of and other conditions relating to examinations on discovery before the filing of the defence ;

(4) in the absence of an agreement filed by the parties at the office of the court, determine a timetable that will ensure the orderly progress of the proceeding ;

(5) determine how the conduct of the proceeding may be simplified or accelerated and the hearing shortened, by ruling among other things on the advisability of splitting the proceeding, better defining the questions at issue, amending the pleadings or admitting any fact or document, or invite the parties to a settlement conference or to recommend mediation ;

(6) authorize or order that the defence be made orally or in writing on the conditions determined by the court, where not permitted as of right ;

(7) dispose of specific requests made by the parties ;

(8) order service of the motion to institute proceedings on any person, identified by the court, whose rights may be affected by the judgment; and

(9) authorize or order provisional measures.

“151.7. The decisions made by the court are recorded in the minutes of the hearing and govern the parties as to the conduct of the proceeding and, where applicable, the hearing, unless the judge decides otherwise.

The parties must comply with the timetable determined by the court under pain of the penalty prescribed by this Code or, in the absence thereof, of dismissal of the action or application, striking of the allegations involved or foreclosure, as appropriate. However, the judge may, on request, relieve a defaulting party from default if required in the interest of justice; the costs resulting from the default are borne by the party concerned, unless the judge decides otherwise.

“151.8. If the defendant does not attend the presentation of the action or application, the court records the default and hears the plaintiff, if the latter is ready to proceed; if not, the court fixes a new hearing date or orders that the case be placed on the roll and issues such orders as are necessary.

“151.9. If the hearing is held on the same day, the parties prove their cases either by means of detailed affidavits, or by means of oral or documentary evidence, unless otherwise specified by law.

“151.10. If, during the course of a proceeding, a transaction, a discontinuance of the action or a total acquiescence in the demand occurs, the parties must notify the clerk without delay.

“SECTION III

“SPECIAL CASE MANAGEMENT

“151.11. Where required by the nature or complexity of the proceeding or in cases where the 180-day peremptory time limit is extended, the chief judge or chief justice may, at any stage of the proceeding, on his or her own initiative or on request, order special case management. In that case, the chief judge or chief justice designates a judge to see to the orderly conduct of the proceeding.

“151.12. The judge so designated convenes the parties and their attorneys to a case management conference so that they may negotiate an agreement as to the conduct of the proceeding, specifying the arrangements between them and determining the timetable with which they are to comply. If the parties fail to agree, the judge shall determine a timetable for the proceeding.

“151.13. The judge disposes of all incidental proceedings and other applications during the course of the proceeding. The judge holds a pre-trial conference, where applicable, and issues any appropriate orders. The judge presides the hearing and renders judgment on the merits.

“SECTION IV

“SETTLEMENT CONFERENCE

“151.14. A judge may preside a settlement conference. A judge enjoys judicial immunity while presiding such a conference.

“151.15. At any stage of the proceeding, the chief justice or chief judge may, at the request of the parties, designate a judge to preside a settlement conference. In their request, the parties must present a summary of the questions at issue.

The chief justice or chief judge may, on his or her own initiative, recommend the holding of such a conference. If the parties consent, the chief justice or chief judge designates a judge to preside the conference.

“151.16. The purpose of a settlement conference is to facilitate dialogue between the parties and help them to identify their interests, assess their positions, negotiate and explore mutually satisfactory solutions.

A settlement conference is held in private, at no cost to the parties and without formality.

“151.17. A settlement conference is held in the presence of the parties, and, if the parties so wish, in the presence of their attorneys. With the consent of the parties, the presiding judge may meet with the parties separately. Other persons may also take part in the conference if the judge and the parties consider that their presence would be helpful in resolving the dispute.

“151.18. In agreement with the parties, the judge defines the rules of the settlement conference and any measure to facilitate its conduct, and determines the schedule of meetings.

“151.19. The settlement conference does not suspend the proceeding, but the judge presiding the conference may, if necessary, modify the timetable.

“151.20. The parties must ensure that the persons who have authority to conclude an agreement are present at the settlement conference, or that they may be reached at all times to give their consent.

“151.21. Anything said or written during a settlement conference is confidential.

“151.22. If a settlement is reached, the judge homologates the transaction on request.

“151.23. If no settlement is reached, the judge may not preside any subsequent hearing relating to the dispute.

With the consent of the parties, the judge may convert the settlement conference into a pre-trial conference.”

20. Articles 152 to 154 of the said Code are replaced by the following articles :

“152. If article 65 applies to the plaintiff, the defendant may request, at the time of presentation of the motion to institute proceedings, that the plaintiff be required to give security, within the time determined by the court, for the costs that may be incurred in consequence of the action, on pain of dismissal of the action. The court determines the amount of the security on the basis of such factors as the nature and importance of the case and the costs associated with incidental proceedings, experts’ appraisals, the examination of witnesses out of court, the type of hearing and the length of the trial. Other factors to be considered are the value of the property held in Québec by, and the ability to pay of, the plaintiff or the mandator, if not a resident of Québec.

At the request of a party during the proceeding, the court may increase or reduce the amount of security if warranted by the development of the case or a change in the situation of the plaintiff.

“153. The defendant may request security for costs after the presentation of the motion to institute proceedings. In such a case, however, the court may award costs against the defendant in the amount it determines.”

“BOOK VIII

“ACTIONS INVOLVING SMALL CLAIMS

“TITLE I

“GENERAL PROVISIONS

“CHAPTER I

“JURISDICTION OVER SMALL CLAIMS

“953. The money claimed in an action involving a small claim, that is,

(a) a claim not exceeding $7,000, exclusive of interest,

(b) for a debt owed to a person, partnership or association in the name of and for the account of that person, partnership or association, may only be recovered before the courts pursuant to this Book.

The same applies to any action which seeks the dissolution, rescission or cancellation of a contract where neither the value of the contract or, where applicable, the amount claimed exceeds $7,000.

A legal person, partnership or association may, as creditor, avail itself of the provisions of this Book only if, at all times during the 12-month period preceding the application, not more than five persons bound to it by contract of employment were under its direction or control.

“954. This Book does not apply to actions arising from the lease of a dwelling or land referred to in article 1892 of the Civil Code, to actions for the payment of support or to class actions. Nor does it apply to suits for slander or to actions for the recovery of a claim instituted by a person, partnership or association to whom the claim was assigned in return for payment.

“955. Persons, partnerships or associations may not, even indirectly, divide a claim exceeding $7,000 into two or more claims that do not exceed that amount in order to avail themselves of this Book, on pain of dismissal of the action.

However, this article shall not operate to prevent the recovery of

(a) a claim voluntarily reduced by the plaintiff to $7,000 or less;

(b) a claim arising from a credit contract providing for repayment by instalments, or

(c) a claim arising from a contract involving the sequential performance of obligations such as a lease, a work contract, a disability insurance contract or the like.

“956. Two or more plaintiffs may join in the same action if their claims have the same juridical basis or raise the same questions of law or fact. However, the judge may, if he or she is of the opinion that the ends of justice will be better served, order that the actions be heard separately.

If each of the actions of the persons, partnerships or associations joining in the same action involves a small claim, the action is governed by the rules contained in this Book. Otherwise, it is governed by the rules contained in the other Books of this Code.

Despite the preceding paragraph, the execution of a judgment rendered on a small claim is effected pursuant to this Book.

“957. Where a party challenges the validity or constitutionality of a legislative or regulatory provision, an order, an order in council or a proclamation of the Gouvernement du Québec, the Lieutenant Governor, the Governor General or the Governor General in Council, the judge may order that the action be transferred to the court of competent jurisdiction.

“958. An action involving a small claim must be brought before the court of the defendant’s domicile or last known place of residence, the court of the insured’s domicile where the action is brought against an insurer, the court of the place where the cause of action arose or the court of the place where the contract was formed. If the defendant is not domiciled in Québec, the action may also be brought before the court of the defendant’s place of residence or establishment in Québec.

If the plaintiff resides more than 80 kilometres from the defendant’s domicile, the plaintiff may file the statement of claim at the court of the plaintiff’s own domicile or, if the plaintiff is not domiciled in Québec, at the court of the plaintiff’s place of residence or establishment in Québec. In such a case, the statement of claim is transmitted by the clerk to the office of the court chosen by the plaintiff pursuant to the first paragraph.

“CHAPTER II

“REPRESENTATION OF PARTIES

“959. Natural persons must represent themselves; they may, however, give a mandate to their spouse, a relative, a person connected by marriage or a friend to represent them. The mandate must be gratuitous and be set out in a signed writing stating the reasons why the person is unable to represent himself or herself.

The State, legal persons, partnerships and associations may only be represented by an officer or another person bound exclusively to them under a contract of employment.

Notwithstanding the Charter of human rights and freedoms (chapter C-12), no advocate or collection agent may act as a mandatary. By way of exception, where a case raises a complex legal issue, the judge may, on his or her own initiative or at the request of a party and with the consent of the chief judge of the Court of Québec, allow the parties to be represented by an advocate. Except in the case of parties not admissible as plaintiffs under this Book, the fees and costs of the advocates are borne by the Minister of Justice and may not exceed the fees and costs set out in the tariff of fees prescribed by the Government under the Legal Aid Act (chapter A-14).

“TITLE II

“PROCEDURE

“INSTITUTION OF ACTION AND CONTESTATION

“960. The clerk provides the parties who so request with any information they may need at any stage of the proceeding or the execution of the judgment, particularly as regards the essential elements of procedure and the rules governing the communication of exhibits and the presentation of evidence. Where necessary, the clerk assists the parties in preparing pleadings or completing the forms placed at their disposal. In no case may the clerk give legal advice to the parties.

“961. The statement of claim must set out the facts on which the action is based, the nature and amount of the claim, the amount of the interest, and the conclusions sought. It must also state the name, domicile and place of residence of the plaintiff and the name and last known place of residence of the defendant.

If the plaintiff is a legal person, partnership or association, the statement of claim must also contain a declaration that not more than five persons bound to it by a contract of employment were under its direction or control at any time in the 12-month period preceding the institution of the action.

“962. The plaintiff or the plaintiff’s mandatary prepares the statement of claim, or explains the facts and the conclusions sought to the clerk and asks the clerk to prepare the statement of claim. The statement of claim must be signed by the plaintiff or the plaintiff’s mandatary and be supported by the signatory's oath verifying the accuracy of the facts and the existence of the debt; the statement of claim must be presented together with any exhibits supporting the plaintiff's allegations.

“963. If the action is admissible, the statement of claim is filed at the office of the court and a court record is thereby opened.

If the action is not admissible, the clerk informs the plaintiff, indicating that the decision may be reviewed by a judge at the plaintiff's request within 15 days of its notification.

“964. The clerk notifies a copy of the statement of claim to the defendant, together with a list of the exhibits filed by the plaintiff and a notice setting out the options available to the defendant.

The notice must reproduce the text determined by the Minister of Justice and must state that if the defendant fails to indicate an option to the clerk within 20 days of the notification, judgment may be rendered against the defendant without further notice or extension.

“965. The options available to the defendant are

(1) to pay the amount claimed and the plaintiff's disbursements, either to the clerk or to the plaintiff, in the latter case forwarding proof of payment or the acquittance obtained from the plaintiff to the clerk; or

(2) to make a settlement with the plaintiff, and send a copy of the agreement to the clerk;

(3) to contest the merits of the action, and so advise the clerk, specifying the grounds for the contestation.

In addition, a defendant who chooses to contest the action may

(1) request that the dispute be referred to mediation;

(2) apply for the referral of the case to another judicial district, specifying the grounds for the request;

(3) request that another person be impleaded to allow a complete resolution of the dispute, in which case the defendant informs the clerk of the person's name and last known address; and

(4) make a counter-claim against the plaintiff provided it arises out of the same source as the plaintiff's claim or from a related source and is admissible under this Book.

“966. If the action involves a claim for a debt that is liquidated and payable, the clerk requests a bailiff to effect personal service of the statement of claim on the defendant or, in the case of a legal person, a partnership or an association, on an officer of the defendant.

On serving the statement of claim, the bailiff must inform the defendant of the possibility of paying, making a settlement, or contesting the action, and of the consequences of failing to act. The bailiff may accept payment or receive an offer to settle on behalf of the plaintiff, or record the defendant's intention to contest. The bailiff records the payment, the offer to settle or the intention to contest on the certificate of service and files the certificate in the court record without delay. If the defendant intends to contest, he or she must be informed of the possibility of requesting mediation. If the defendant decides to request mediation, the bailiff enters the request on the certificate of service.

“967. If the defendant has paid the plaintiff, the clerk closes the record ; if the parties have reached a settlement and one of the parties so requests, the clerk confirms the agreement as a judgment.

If the defendant has requested that the case be referred to another judicial district, the clerk so advises the plaintiff and submits the request to the judge. If the judge finds the request well-founded, the clerk refers the case to the clerk of the court of competent jurisdiction and it is continued before that court as though it had originally been brought before that court.

“968. If the defendant chooses to contest the merits of the action, the defendant so advises the clerk and sets out the grounds for contestation in a written contestation. The defendant files the exhibits supporting the defendant's allegations at the office of the court. The clerk notifies a copy of the contestation to the plaintiff, together with a list of the exhibits filed by the defendant.

If the defendant wishes to make a counter-claim against the plaintiff, arising out of the same source as the plaintiff's claim or from a related source and the counter-claim is admissible under this Book, the defendant may demand payment thereof in the contestation and file the exhibits supporting the related allegations.

“969. If the defendant has requested that another person be impleaded, the defendant presents the grounds for the request to the clerk and files the exhibits supporting the related allegations. The clerk so notifies the plaintiff and serves copies of the statement of claim and the contestation on the impleaded party, together with a list of the exhibits in the clerk's possession. The clerk also notifies the impleaded party that the party's presence is required at the request of the defendant.

“970. If the defendant fails to file an answer, the judge or the special clerk, as the case may be, renders judgment after examining the exhibits in the record and, if necessary, after hearing the plaintiff's evidence.

In the case of an action to which article 194 applies, the clerk renders judgment on the face of the statement of claim and the exhibits in the record.

“971. A defendant sued pursuant to the other Books of this Code who would be admissible as a plaintiff under this Book may request that the case be heard pursuant to this Book.

Such a request may be made to the clerk of the court seized of the case, at any time before inscription for judgment by the clerk or inscription for proof and hearing before the court. If the request is found to be admissible, the clerk immediately notifies the plaintiff and transfers the case so that it may be continued pursuant to this Book.

“SUMMONING OF PARTIES AND WITNESSES

“972. When the case is ready, the clerk summons the parties to the hearing. The summons must indicate that a party may, on request, obtain a copy of the documents, statements and reports filed at the office of the court by the other parties; it must also indicate that any person representing a person, partnership or association must produce a written mandate.

In the summons, the clerk informs the parties that all documents, statements and reports must be filed at least 15 days before the date of the hearing. The clerk also informs the parties that they must bring their witnesses to the hearing and identify any witnesses they wish the clerk to summon.

The clerk summons the witnesses requested by the parties. A party who summons a witness may be ordered to pay the costs if the judge considers that the witness was summoned and required to attend unnecessarily.

“CHAPTER III

“MEDIATION

“973. The clerk must inform the parties at the earliest opportunity that they may at no additional cost submit their dispute to mediation. If both parties consent, they may ask the clerk to refer them to the mediation service. The mediation session is presided by an advocate or a notary who is certified as a mediator by his or her professional order.

The mediator must file a report at the office of the court giving an account of the facts, the positions of the parties, the questions of law raised, the evidence the parties intend to file and the witnesses they propose to call at the hearing. However, no offers tendered or statements made by the parties in an effort to settle the dispute may be put in evidence at a hearing, except with the consent of the parties.

If the parties settle their dispute, they draft an agreement and sign it; they file a copy of the agreement, or a notice that the case has been settled, at the office of the court. If the agreement is filed, it is confirmed by the judge or the clerk and thereby becomes equivalent to a judgment.

“CHAPTER IV*“HEARING

“974. In all cases where a hearing is necessary, the clerk, where reasonably practicable, fixes a time and place for the hearing which will allow the parties and their witnesses to attend. The judge may hold a hearing elsewhere than at the place where the action was instituted.

On the day fixed for the hearing, the clerk, in the absence of the judge, may postpone a case at the request of a party if the clerk considers that the ends of justice will be better served; in such a case, the clerk must notify the other party without delay and rule on that party’s costs; the clerk’s decision as to costs may be revised by the judge during the hearing on the merits.

“975. If an action having the same juridical basis or raising the same questions of law as an action brought pursuant to this Book is before the Superior Court or the Court of Québec, the judge suspends the hearing of the case, if one of the parties so requests, until the judgment on the other action has become definitive, provided no serious prejudice may be caused to the opposite party. Such decision may be revised by a judge at the request of one of the parties, if warranted by new circumstances.

“976. At the time fixed for the hearing, the clerk calls the case and ascertains whether the parties are present and the judge presiding judges the case according to the evidence presented.

At any time before the hearing on the merits, a judge may hear any preliminary application and issue any order as appropriate.

“977. The judge instructs the parties summarily as to the applicable rules of evidence and the procedure that appears appropriate. On the invitation of the judge, the parties state their allegations and call their witnesses.

The judge examines the parties and the witnesses and gives them equitable and impartial assistance so as to render effective the substantive law and ensure that it is carried out.

“978. Whenever possible, the judge attempts to reconcile the parties.

If a settlement is reached, the judge instructs the clerk to record the agreement; the agreement, signed by the parties and countersigned by the judge, is equivalent to a judgment.

“979. At the hearing, the defendant or any impleaded party may present any grounds of contestation or propose terms and conditions of payment.

“980. A party may produce a written statement as testimony provided it was filed at the office of the court at least ten days before the hearing and the opposite party was notified by the clerk that the statement was available for examination and reproduction. The opposite party may request that the clerk summon the deponent to the hearing. The judge may award costs against a party having requested a deponent to be summoned if the judge believes the written statement was sufficient and the deponent's attendance unnecessary.

“981. The judge may accept the filing of a document, statement or report after the expiry of the prescribed time if the judge considers that no prejudice is caused to the opposite party or that the ends of justice will be better served.

“982. The judge may, on his or her own initiative, if it is the judge's opinion that the ends of justice will be better served, visit the premises or order an expert's appraisal of the facts related to the case or a certified report by a competent person designated by the judge.

The procedure applicable to the appraisal or report is determined by the judge.

The judge rules on the costs relating to the appraisal or report and determines whether they are to be borne by one of the parties or by both or, if the judge considers it appropriate and that the ends of justice will be better served, by the Minister of Justice.

“CHAPTER V

“JUDGMENT

“983. The judgment, including a summary of the reasons for the decision, is recorded in writing and signed by the judge, special clerk or clerk who rendered it. The judgment in a contested action must be rendered within four months of the hearing; any other judgment must be rendered within 30 days after the record is complete.

Unless the judgment is rendered at the hearing in the presence of the parties, the clerk sends a certified copy of the judgment to each party as soon as it is rendered.

The clerk sends a notice to the debtor, with the copy of the judgment, stating that a judgment has been rendered against the debtor and that upon the failure to pay the debt due, the debtor's property may be seized and, if necessary, sold by judicial sale.

“984. The judgment is final and without appeal.

Actions involving small claims are not subject to the superintending and reforming power of the Superior Court, except where there is want or excess of jurisdiction.

“985. The judgment has the authority of res judicata only as to the parties to the action and the amount claimed.

The judgment cannot be invoked in an action based on the same cause and instituted before another court; the court, on its own initiative or at the request of a party, must dismiss any action or proof based on the judgment.

“986. The judgment may be executed on the expiry of 30 days from the day it is rendered, unless the judge has ordered otherwise. A judgment by default may be executed on the expiry of ten days from the day it is rendered. However, if the creditor establishes, in a writing under oath, a fact permitting a seizure before judgment, the creditor may be authorized by the judge to execute the judgment before the expiry of the prescribed time.

If the judgment orders payment of the debt by instalments or confirms a settlement between the creditor and the debtor and the latter fails to pay an instalment when due, the creditor may demand payment of the amount due in writing. If the debtor fails to pay the instalment within ten days of the demand, the entire amount of the debt becomes due and execution is proceeded with.

“987. The judgment determines costs, including the allowances payable to witnesses, but only as regards those it specifies, according to the tariffs in force. In the case of a transfer from another court, the judgment also determines the costs incurred before the transmission of the record so that it may be continued pursuant to this Book.

“988. In any action involving a claim admissible as a small claim which was not instituted pursuant to this Book, a defendant against whom a judgment by default is rendered for failure to appear or contest and who did not exercise the right to have the case transferred is liable for the plaintiff’s costs according to the rules applicable under the other Books of this Code.

“CHAPTER VI

“REVOCATION OF JUDGMENT

“989. If a party against whom a judgment by default is rendered was unable to contest the action or attend the hearing owing to surprise, fraud or any other sufficient cause, the party may apply for the revocation of the judgment.

A party may also apply for the revocation of the judgment in any case described in article 483 that is not inconsistent with the provisions of this Book.

Interpretation.

In the formula provided for in subparagraph a of the first paragraph,

(a) A is the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the salaries or wages paid by the vendor to an employee in its base period for the particular calendar year for which the employee is an eligible employee, or the salaries or wages of an employee who reports for work at an establishment of the vendor situated in Québec, paid by the vendor in a period within the year for which the employee would be an eligible employee of the vendor if the establishment where the employee so reported for work had been situated in an eligible region;

(b) B is the proportion that the number of the vendor's employees referred to in subparagraph a who are assigned to the part of the activities that diminished or ceased at the particular time is of the number of the vendor's employees assigned to those activities immediately before the particular time ; and

(c) C, where this section applies for the purpose of determining the amount that a corporation is deemed to have paid to the Minister under this division in respect of the particular calendar year, is the proportion that the number of days in the particular calendar year following the particular time is of 365.

Exception.

Where a corporation is, at any time in a calendar year, a purchaser in relation to activities carried on by another corporation and, at a subsequent time in the same calendar year, that corporation is a vendor in relation to all of those activities, this section does not apply to the corporation either as vendor or as purchaser in respect of the activities and, for the purpose of determining the amount that the corporation is deemed to have paid to the Minister under this division, the corporation is deemed to have paid, from that time to the subsequent time, no portion of the salaries or wages that may reasonably be considered to relate to the employees of the corporation assigned to the carrying on of the activities that ceased after the subsequent time.

Exception.

For the purposes of this section, where a corporation is, at a particular time in a calendar year, a purchaser in relation to activities carried on by another corporation and, at a subsequent time in the same calendar year, that corporation is a vendor in relation to part of those activities, the following rules apply for the purpose of determining the eligible amount of the corporation for the year and the base amount of the corporation in relation to that year :

(a) the corporation is deemed to have paid to its employees only the portion of the salaries or wages that may reasonably be considered to have been paid to the employees of the corporation assigned to the part of the activities that the corporation continues to carry on after that time ; and

(b) the other corporation is deemed to have paid to its employees only the portion of the salaries or wages that may reasonably be considered to have been paid to the employees of the other corporation assigned to the part of the activities that the corporation continues to carry on after that time.

Special rule.

Where a particular corporation is, at any time in a calendar year, a purchaser in relation to certain activities carried on by a corporation and that corporation was, at an earlier time in the calendar year, a purchaser in relation to those activities carried on by another corporation, in applying this section to the particular corporation, subparagraph i of subparagraph b of the first paragraph and subparagraph 2 of subparagraph ii of that subparagraph b shall be read as if the reference therein to "vendor" were a reference to all the corporations that were, in the calendar year and before that time, vendors in respect of the activities.

Corporations deemed to be associated.

“1029.8.36.72.66. Subject to sections 1029.8.36.72.64 and 1029.8.36.72.65, where, at a particular time in a particular calendar year, the activities carried on by a corporation, in this section referred to as the “vendor”, in relation to a recognized business or a business that would have been a recognized business if a qualification certificate had been issued in its respect, diminish or cease in whole or in part and it may reasonably be considered that, as a result, another corporation, in this section referred to as the “purchaser”, begins, after the particular time, to carry on similar activities in the course of carrying on such a business, or increases, after the particular time, the scope of similar activities carried on in the course of carrying on such a business, the following rules apply, subject to the third, fourth and fifth paragraphs, for the purpose of determining the amount that a corporation is deemed to have paid to the Minister under this division in respect of the particular calendar year and the subsequent calendar year :

(a) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the salaries or wages paid by the vendor to an employee in its base period in relation to the particular calendar year for which the employee is an eligible employee, or the salaries or wages of an employee who reports for work at an establishment of the vendor situated in Québec, paid by the vendor in its base period in relation to the particular calendar year for which the employee would be an eligible

$$A \times B \times C;$$

(b) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the salaries or wages paid by the vendor to an employee in a period of the particular calendar year preceding the particular time for which the employee is an eligible employee, or the salaries or wages of an employee who reports for work at an establishment of the vendor situated in Québec, paid by the vendor in a period of the particular calendar year preceding the particular time for which the employee would be an eligible employee of the vendor if the establishment where the employee so reported for work had been situated in the City of Biotechnology and Human Health of Metropolitan Montréal is deemed, for the purpose of determining the amount the vendor is deemed to have paid to the Minister under this division in respect of the calendar year that follows the particular calendar year, to be equal to the amount by which that aggregate otherwise determined exceeds the amount determined by the formula

$$B \times D; \text{ and}$$

(c) the purchaser is deemed

ii. to have a base amount in relation to the particular calendar year equal to the aggregate of

(1) the base amount of the purchaser otherwise determined in relation to the particular calendar year,

(3) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the salaries or wages paid by the purchaser to an employee in a period of the particular calendar year, and after the particular time, for which the employee is an eligible employee, or the salaries or wages of an employee who reports for work at an establishment of the purchaser situated in Québec, paid by the purchaser in a period of the particular calendar year and after the particular time, for which the employee would be an eligible employee of the purchaser if the establishment where the employee so reported for work had been situated in the City of Biotechnology and Human Health of Metropolitan Montréal, to the extent that the salaries or wages may reasonably be considered to relate to the carrying on by the employee of the part of the activities that began or increased at the particular time.

Interpretation.

In the formulas provided for in subparagraphs a and b of the first paragraph,

(a) A is the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the salaries or wages paid by the vendor to an employee in its base period for the particular calendar year for which the employee is an eligible employee, or the salaries or wages of an employee who reports for work at an establishment of the vendor situated in Québec, paid by the vendor in a period within the year for which the employee would be an eligible employee of the vendor if the establishment where the employee so reported for work had been situated in the City of Biotechnology and Human Health of Metropolitan Montréal;

(b) B is the proportion that the number of the vendor's employees referred to in subparagraph a who are assigned to the part of the activities that diminished or ceased at the particular time is of the number of the vendor's employees assigned to those activities immediately before the particular time;

(c) C, where this section applies for the purpose of determining the amount that a corporation is deemed to have paid to the Minister under this division in respect of the particular calendar year, is the proportion that the number of days in the particular calendar year following the particular time is of 365; and

(d) D is the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the salaries or wages paid by the vendor to an employee in a period within the particular calendar year preceding the particular time for which the employee is an eligible employee, or the salaries or wages of an employee who reports for work at an establishment of the vendor situated in Québec, paid by the vendor in a period within the particular calendar year preceding the particular time for which the employee would be an eligible employee of the vendor if the establishment where the employee so reported for work had been situated in the City of Biotechnology and Human Health of Metropolitan Montréal.

Exception.

Where a corporation is, at any time in a calendar year, a purchaser in relation to activities carried on by another corporation and, at a subsequent time in the same calendar year, that corporation is a vendor in relation to all of those activities, this section does not apply to the corporation either as vendor or as purchaser in respect of the activities and, for the purpose of determining the amount that the corporation is deemed to have paid to the Minister under this division, the corporation is deemed to have paid, from that time to the subsequent time, no portion of the salaries or wages that may reasonably be considered to relate to the employees of the corporation assigned to the carrying on of the activities that ceased after the subsequent time.

Exception.

For the purposes of this section, where a corporation is, at a particular time in a calendar year, a purchaser in relation to activities carried on by another corporation and, at a subsequent time in the same calendar year, that corporation is a vendor in relation to part of those activities, the following rules apply for the purpose of determining the eligible amount of the corporation for the year and the base amount of the corporation in relation to that year:

(a) the corporation is deemed to have paid to its employees only the portion of the salaries or wages that may reasonably be considered to have been paid to the employees of the corporation assigned to the part of the activities that the corporation continues to carry on after that time; and

(b) the other corporation is deemed to have paid to its employees only the portion of the salaries or wages that may reasonably be considered to have been paid to the employees of the other corporation assigned to the part of the activities that the corporation continues to carry on after that time.

Special rule.

Where a particular corporation is, at any time in a calendar year, a purchaser in relation to certain activities carried on by a corporation and that corporation was, at an earlier time in the calendar year, a purchaser in relation to those activities carried on by another corporation, in applying this section to the particular corporation, subparagraph i of subparagraph c of the first paragraph and subparagraph 2 of subparagraph ii of that subparagraph c shall be read as if the reference therein to “vendor” were a reference to all the corporations that were, in the calendar year and before that time, a vendor in respect of the activities.

Assistance, benefit or advantage deemed nil.

“1029.8.36.72.67. For the purposes of this division, where a corporation has received, is entitled to receive or may reasonably expect to receive non-government assistance, or where a person or a partnership has obtained, is entitled to obtain or may reasonably expect to obtain a benefit or advantage, whether in the form of a reimbursement, compensation, guarantee, in the form of proceeds of disposition of property which exceed the fair market value of the property, or in any other form or manner, in respect of a taxation year or a fiscal period in which the base period of the corporation in relation to a calendar year ends, in respect of a recognized business, or a business that would have been a recognized business if a qualification certificate had been issued in its respect, and where it may reasonably be considered that the main reason for the assistance or the benefit or advantage is to reduce, in accordance with subparagraph i or iii of paragraph a or b of section 1029.8.36.72.62, as the case may be, the amount of the salaries or wages paid by the corporation in its base period, in relation to the business, so as to cause a corporation to be deemed to have paid an amount to the Minister under this division for a taxation year or to increase an amount that a corporation is deemed to have paid to the Minister under this division for a taxation year, the amount of the assistance or of the benefit or advantage is deemed to be equal to zero.

Corporations deemed to be associated.

“1029.8.36.72.68. Where it may reasonably be considered that one of the main reasons for the separate existence of two or more corporations in a calendar year is to cause a qualified corporation to be deemed to have paid an amount to the Minister under this division in respect of that year or to increase an amount that a qualified corporation is deemed to have paid to the Minister under this division in respect of that year, those corporations are deemed, for the purposes of this division, to be associated with each other at the end of the year.

Advice.

“1029.8.36.72.69. The Minister may obtain the advice of Investissement Québec to determine, for the purposes of this division, whether an activity is directly related to the activities of a business described in paragraph a or b of the definition of “recognized business” in the first paragraph of section 1029.8.36.72.56.”

AN ACT TO AMEND THE ENVIRONMENT QUALITY ACT AND OTHER LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS WITH REGARD TO LAND PROTECTION AND REHABILITATION

[Assented to 8 June 2002]

THE PARLIAMENT OF QUÉBEC ENACTS AS FOLLOWS :

- c. Q-2, s. 19.7, am.      1. Section 19.7 of the Environment Quality Act (R.S.Q., chapter Q-2) is amended by inserting “, land rehabilitation plan” after “project” in the second line and by inserting “, a rehabilitation plan” after “authorization” in the fourth line.
- c. Q-2, Chap. I, Div. IV.2.1, ss. 31.42-31.52, replaced.      2. Division IV.2.1 of Chapter I of the said Act is replaced by the following division :

“DIVISION IV.2.1

“LAND PROTECTION AND REHABILITATION

“land”.      “31.42. For the purposes of this division, “land” includes the groundwater and surface water present.

“§1. — General powers of the Minister relating to land characterization and rehabilitation

Contaminants.      “31.43. Where it appears to the Minister that contaminants are present in the land in a concentration exceeding the limit values prescribed by a regulation made under section 31.69, or that the contaminants, even though they are not determined in the regulation, are likely to adversely affect the life, health, safety, welfare or comfort of human beings, other living species or the environment in general, or to be detrimental to property, the Minister may order any person or municipality that,

— even before the coming into force of this section, had emitted, deposited, released or discharged all or part of the contaminants or had allowed the contaminants to be emitted, deposited, released or discharged ; or — after the coming into force of this section, has or has had custody of the land as owner or lessee or in any other capacity, to submit for the Minister’s approval within the time specified a rehabilitation plan setting out the measures that will be implemented to protect human beings, the other living species and the environment in general, including property, together with an implementation schedule.

Exception.

Such an order may not be made against a person or municipality that has or has had custody of the land as owner or lessee or in any other capacity, where

(1) it is established that the person or municipality was unaware of and had no reason to suspect the presence of contaminants in the land, having regard to the circumstances, practices and duty of care;

(2) it is established that, once becoming aware of the presence of contaminants in the land, the person or municipality acted in conformity with the law, as to the custody of the land, in particular as regards the duty of care and diligence; or

(3) it is established that the presence of contaminants in the land results from outside migration from a source attributable to a third person.

Registration.

“31.44. An order under section 31.43 must require a notice of contamination containing the information set out in section 31.58, with the necessary modifications, to be registered without delay in the land register.

Notification.

The order must be notified to the owner of the land and to every holder of a real right registered in the land register.

Rehabilitation plan.

“31.45. The rehabilitation plan submitted under section 31.43 may provide that contaminants in a concentration exceeding the regulatory limit values are to be left in the land, on the condition, however, that a toxicological and ecotoxicological risk assessment and groundwater impact assessment be submitted with the plan.

Land use restrictions.

In such case, the plan must contain a statement of the land use restrictions that will apply, in particular the resulting charges and obligations.

Approval.

“31.46. Approval of the rehabilitation plan may be subject to conditions. Subject to the provisions of the second paragraph, the Minister may amend the rehabilitation plan or implementation schedule submitted, or order that a new plan or schedule be submitted within the time specified.

Notice.

The Minister shall notify all documents submitted for the Minister’s approval to any land owner not subject to the order, with a notice indicating the time within which the owner may present observations. If the rehabilitation plan provides for land use restrictions, the Minister shall not approve it unless the owner has given consent in writing to the plan and the consent document accompanies the plan submitted for approval. Furthermore, an amendment made by the Minister to a rehabilitation plan may take effect only if the owner has consented in writing to the amendment.

- Registration.           “31.47. If the rehabilitation plan approved by the Minister provides for land use restrictions, the person or municipality having submitted the plan shall, as soon as possible following the approval, apply for registration in the land register of a notice of use restriction containing, in addition to the description of the land,
- (1) the name and address of the applicant for registration ;
  - (2) a description of the work or works required under the rehabilitation plan and a statement of the land use restrictions including the resulting charges and obligations ; and
  - (3) an indication of the place where the rehabilitation plan may be consulted.
- Copies.                 In addition, the applicant must immediately transmit to the Minister and to the owner of the land a duplicate of the notice bearing a registration certificate or a copy of the notice certified by the land registrar. On receipt of the document, the Minister shall transmit a copy to the municipality in which the land is situated ; if the land is situated in a territory referred to in section 133 or 168 that is not constituted as a municipality, the document is transmitted to the body designated by the Minister.
- Registration.           Registration of the notice renders the rehabilitation plan effective against third persons and any subsequent acquirer of the land is bound by the charges and obligations provided for in the rehabilitation plan as regards land use restrictions.
- Certificate.           “31.48. As soon as the work or works made necessary by the implementation of a rehabilitation plan approved by the Minister have been completed, the person or municipality required to carry out the work or works shall transmit to the Minister a certificate of an expert referred to in section 31.65 stating that they were carried out in accordance with the plan.
- Characterization study.   “31.49. Where the Minister has reason to believe that contaminants referred to in section 31.43 may be present in land, the Minister may order any person or municipality that, in the Minister’s opinion, could be subject to an order under that section, to perform a characterization study on the conditions and within the time specified.
- Notification.           The Minister’s order must be notified to the owner of the land and to every holder of a real right registered in the land register.
- Order.                 “31.50. An order under section 31.43 or 31.49 is without prejudice to civil remedies available to the person or municipality subject to the order for the total or partial recovery of the costs incurred to comply with the order or of any increase in the value of the land as a result of the rehabilitation.

“§2. — Special provisions relating to certain industrial or commercial activities

- Characterization study.      “31.51. A person who permanently ceases an industrial or commercial activity of a category designated by regulation of the Government is required to perform a characterization study of the land on which the activity was carried on within six months of the cessation or within such additional time as the Minister may grant, subject to the conditions fixed by the Minister, with a view to the resumption of activity. Upon completion, the study must be transmitted to the Minister and to the owner of the land.
- Contaminants.                If the characterization study reveals the presence of contaminants in a concentration exceeding the regulatory limit values, the person who carried on the activity concerned is required to transmit for the Minister’s approval, as soon as possible after being informed of the presence of the contaminants, a rehabilitation plan setting out the measures that will be implemented to protect human beings, the other living species and the environment in general, including property, together with an implementation schedule and, where applicable, a plan for the dismantling of the installations on the land.
- Provisions applicable.        The provisions of sections 31.45 to 31.48 apply in such a case, with the necessary modifications.
- Notice.                        “31.52. A person who, as owner or lessee or in any other capacity, has the custody of land in which contaminants resulting from an industrial or commercial activity of a category designated by regulation of the Government are found in a concentration exceeding the regulatory limit values is required, on being informed of the presence of the contaminants at the limits of the land or of a serious risk of off-site contamination which could compromise a use of water, to give immediate notice thereof in writing to the owner of the neighbouring land concerned. A copy of the notice must also be transmitted to the Minister.
- Notification.                 The person who has the custody of land referred to in the first paragraph is also required to notify the Minister on being informed of any serious risk of off-site contamination.
- “§3. — Change in land use
- Site characterization study.      “31.53. Any person intending to change the use of land on the site of an industrial or commercial activity of a category designated by regulation of the Government is required to first perform a site characterization study unless such a study is already available and a certificate of an expert referred to in section 31.65 states that the study meets the requirements of the guide prepared by the Minister under section 31.66 and is still current.
- Characterization study and certificate.      The characterization study, once completed, and the certificate, if any, must be transmitted to the Minister and to the owner of the land unless the documents have previously been so transmitted.

- Change in use of land. The carrying on of an activity different from the activity previously carried on, whether it is a new industrial or commercial activity of a category designated by regulation of the Government or any other activity, in particular an industrial, commercial, institutional, agricultural or residential activity, constitutes a change in the use of the land within the meaning of this section.
- Approval. “31.54. Any change in the use of land referred to in section 31.53 is subject to the Minister’s approval of a rehabilitation plan if contaminants are present in the land in a concentration exceeding the regulatory limit values.
- Rehabilitation plan. The rehabilitation plan must be transmitted to the Minister, together with an implementation schedule, and set out the measures that will be implemented to protect human beings, the other living species and the environment in general, including property. The plan must also indicate any measures intended to render the projected land use consistent with the condition of the land.
- Rehabilitation plan. “31.55. The rehabilitation plan referred to in section 31.54 may provide that contaminants in a concentration exceeding the regulatory limit values are to be left in the land, on the condition, however, that a toxicological and ecotoxicological risk assessment and groundwater impact assessment be submitted with the plan.
- Notice. In such a case, the person submitting the plan must inform the public by means of a notice published in a newspaper circulated in the municipality in which the land is situated and containing
- (1) a description of the land and the name and address of the owner ;
  - (2) a summary of the land use change proposal, the characterization study, the toxicological and ecotoxicological risk assessment and groundwater impact assessment and the proposed rehabilitation plan ;
  - (3) the date, time and place in the municipality where a public information meeting is to be held, which may not take place until ten days have elapsed after publication of the notice ; and
  - (4) a statement that the full text of each document referred to in subparagraph 2 may be examined at the office of the municipality.
- Report. A report of the observations made at the public meeting and a copy of the public notice published in the newspaper must accompany the rehabilitation plan submitted for approval. The report may also be examined at the office of the municipality.
- Provisions applicable. “31.56. The provisions of sections 31.45 to 31.48 apply, with the necessary modifications, to the rehabilitation plan.

“§4. — Voluntary land rehabilitation

Approval.

“31.57. Any person intending to rehabilitate all or any part of contaminated land on a voluntary basis without being required to do so under a provision of this division and to leave contaminants in the land in a concentration exceeding the regulatory limit values shall, before any work is undertaken, submit for the Minister’s approval a rehabilitation plan setting out the measures that will be implemented to protect human beings, the other living species and the environment in general, including property, together with an implementation schedule and a toxicological and ecotoxicological risk assessment and groundwater impact assessment. A characterization study must also be submitted with the rehabilitation plan.

Provisions applicable.

The provisions of sections 31.45 to 31.48 apply in such a case, with the necessary modifications.

“§5. — Contamination and decontamination notices

Registration.

“31.58. Where a characterization study performed pursuant to this Act reveals the presence in land of contaminants in a concentration exceeding the regulatory limit values, the person or municipality who had the study performed shall apply for registration in the land register of a notice of contamination on being informed of the presence of such contaminants.

Notice.

The notice of contamination must contain, in addition to a description of the land,

(1) the name and address of the applicant for registration of the notice and of the owner of the land ;

(2) the name of the municipality in which the land is situated and the land use authorized by the zoning by-laws ; and

(3) a summary of the characterization study, certified by an expert referred to in section 31.65, stating among other things the nature of the contaminants present in the land.

Copies.

In addition, the person or municipality must transmit to the Minister and to the owner of the land a duplicate of the notice bearing a registration certificate or a copy of the notice certified by the land registrar. On receipt of the document, the Minister shall transmit a copy to the municipality in which the land is situated ; if the land is situated in a territory referred to in section 133 or 168 that is not constituted as a municipality, the document is transmitted to the body designated by the Minister.

- Registration.           “31.59. A person or municipality having registered a notice of contamination under section 31.58 or the owner of the land concerned may apply for registration in the land register of a notice of decontamination if decontamination work has been carried out and a subsequent characterization study has shown that no contaminants are present, or that contaminants are present in a concentration not exceeding the regulatory limit values.
- Notice.                 The provisions of the second and third paragraphs of section 31.58 apply, with the necessary modifications, to the notice of decontamination. The notice must also mention any land use restrictions registered in the land register that have been rendered unnecessary as a result of the decontamination.
- Characterization study.   The characterization study mentioned in the first paragraph shall be made available to the Minister.
- “§6. — General provisions
- Amendment.           “31.60. The Minister may amend any rehabilitation plan approved pursuant to the provisions of this division on the request of the person or municipality required to implement the plan.
- Notification.           The request to amend the plan must be notified to any land owner not required to implement the plan, with a notice indicating the time within which the owner may present observations to the Minister. If the rehabilitation plan to be amended provides for land use restrictions, it may not be amended unless the owner has given consent in writing to the amendments and the consent document has been transmitted to the Minister with the request for amendment.
- Registration.           In addition, if an amendment to a rehabilitation plan is such that it modifies land use restrictions, the person or municipality requesting the amendment must immediately apply for registration of the amendment in the land register by means of a notice setting out the modifications. As of the registration of the notice, the amended rehabilitation plan is effective against third persons and any subsequent acquirer of the land is bound by the charges and obligations provided for in the rehabilitation plan as regards land use restrictions.
- Applicability.         The provisions of the last paragraph of section 31.58 apply, with the necessary modifications, to the notice.
- Additional information.   “31.61. The Minister may require any person or municipality required to transmit a characterization study, a toxicological and ecotoxicological risk assessment and groundwater impact assessment or a land rehabilitation plan to the Minister, or any person or municipality requesting an amendment to an approved rehabilitation plan, to furnish any additional information, document, study or expert evaluation the Minister considers necessary to determine the nature and extent of the contamination involved, the risk and impacts for the environment or for human beings, and the effectiveness of the rehabilitation or protection measures.

- Default.                   “31.62. If a person or municipality fails to perform a characterization study or furnish any additional information, document, study or expert evaluation required under this division, or fails to apply for registration in the land register, the Minister may take any measure necessary to remedy the default.
- Default.                   The same applies if a person or municipality fails to transmit or amend a land rehabilitation plan required under this division, or fails to carry out a land rehabilitation or decontamination plan as approved and according to the implementation schedule, or to comply with the conditions of the plan once it has been carried out. In such a case, the Minister may take any measure the Minister considers appropriate to decontaminate the land or to ensure the plan is implemented.
- Costs.                     The Minister may, in the same manner as for any debt due to the State, recover from the person or municipality in default the direct and indirect costs incurred by reason of measures taken pursuant to this section.
- Legal hypothec.         Every amount due to the State under this section is secured by a legal hypothec on the movable and immovable property of the person in default.
- Free access to land.     “31.63. The person who, as owner or lessee or in any other capacity, has the custody of the land shall give free access to the land at any reasonable time to any person required under this division to perform a characterization study or a toxicological and ecotoxicological risk assessment and groundwater impact assessment or to implement a rehabilitation plan, subject, however, to that person restoring the premises to their former state and compensating the owner or custodian of the land, as the case may be, for any damage.
- Exemption.              “31.64. Work or works that are necessary to implement a land rehabilitation plan approved by the Minister under this division are exempt from the application of section 22.
- List of experts.         “31.65. The Minister shall draw up and maintain a list of experts authorized to furnish the certificates required under this division and sections 120 and 121 of the Act respecting land use planning and development (chapter A-19.1). The list shall be made available to the public in the manner determined by the Minister.
- Conditions.              The conditions to be met for entry on the list, including the fees payable, shall be determined by the Minister after consultation with groups or organizations which in the Minister’s opinion are comprised of persons having qualifications susceptible of satisfying those conditions. Once determined, the conditions must be published in the Gazette officielle du Québec.
- Guide.                    “31.66. The Minister shall prepare a guide setting out the objectives and elements to consider in performing a site characterization study, in particular as regards the assessment of soil quality and the impacts that contaminants present in the land may have on the groundwater and surface water.

- Consultation. For that purpose, the Minister may consult any government department, group, body or person interested in the matter.
- Guide. The guide shall be made available to the public in the manner determined by the Minister.

The limit values may vary in particular on the basis of land use ;
  - (2) determine the categories of the industrial or commercial activities referred to in sections 31.51, 31.52 and 31.53 ;

AN ACT TO AMEND THE CIVIL CODE AND OTHER LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS

[Assented to 13 June 2002]

THE PARLIAMENT OF QUÉBEC ENACTS AS FOLLOWS :

1991, c. 64, a. 30,
replaced.

1. Article 30 of the Civil Code of Québec (1991, chapter 64), amended by section 33 of chapter 75 of the statutes of 1997, is replaced by the following articles :

“30. Confinement in an institution following a psychiatric assessment may only be authorized by the court if both psychiatric reports conclude that confinement is necessary.

Even if that is the case, the court may not authorize confinement unless the court itself has serious reasons to believe that the person is dangerous and that the person’s confinement is necessary, whatever evidence may be otherwise presented to the court and even in the absence of any contrary medical opinion.

“30.1. A judgment authorizing confinement must also set the duration of confinement.

However, the person under confinement must be released as soon as confinement is no longer justified, even if the set period of confinement has not elapsed.

Any confinement required beyond the duration set by the judgment must be authorized by the court, in accordance with the provisions of article 30.”

1991, c. 64, a. 35, am.

2. Article 35 of the said Code is amended by striking out “or his heirs” in the second paragraph.

5. The said Code is amended by inserting the following article after article 535 :

“535.1. Where the court is seized of an action concerning filiation, it may, on the application of an interested person, order the analysis of a sample of a bodily substance so that the genetic profile of a person involved in the action may be established.

However, where the purpose of the action is to establish filiation, the court may not issue such an order unless a commencement of proof of filiation has been established by the person having brought the action or unless the presumptions or indications resulting from facts already clearly established by that person are sufficiently strong to warrant such an order.

The court determines conditions for the sample-taking and analysis that are as respectful as possible of the physical integrity of the person concerned or of the body of the deceased. These conditions include the nature and the date and place of the sample-taking, the identity of the expert charged with taking and analyzing the sample, the use of any sample taken and the confidentiality of the analysis results.

The court may draw a negative presumption from an unjustified refusal to submit to the analysis ordered by the court.”

From 1 July 2001, the associate chief judge shall participate in the pension plan established by Part V.1 of the Courts of Justice Act. He must pay the contribution required by section 224.2 of that Act for the year 2002 to the Commission administrative des régimes de retraite et d’assurances. In addition, he must pay, as a contribution for past service subsequent to 1989, an amount equal to the contribution he should have paid pursuant to the said section 224.2 for the year 2001. However, that amount may not be greater than the amount admissible as a contribution for past service under the applicable fiscal rules. The provisions of the second, third and fourth paragraphs of section 23 and sections 27 to 29 of chapter 8 of the statutes of 2001 apply, with the necessary modifications, to the associate chief judge. Also from 1 July 2001, he shall enjoy the employment benefits of judges of the Court of Québec.

- Term of office of chief judge. 57. The term of office of the chief judge of the new Municipal Court of Ville de Québec shall terminate on 1 July 2002. On the same date, the chief judge becomes the president judge of that court for a term of seven years.
- President judge. The new president judge is entitled, until 30 June 2004, to the additional remuneration to which the chief judge of that municipal court is entitled under the terms of the resolution to that effect adopted by the National Assembly on 18 December 2001. He is also entitled during that period to reimbursement of the expenses attached to that office. However, he is not entitled during that period to the additional remuneration attached to the office of president judge.
- Remuneration. From 1 July 2004 and until the expiry of his seven-year term as president judge, he will be entitled to the additional remuneration attached to the office of president judge, as determined pursuant to section 246.44 of the Courts of Justice Act.
- Salary. At the expiry of his seven-year term as president judge, he will be entitled, until such time as his salary as judge of the Municipal Court of Ville de Québec reaches the amount of his combined salary and additional remuneration at the time he ceased to hold the office of president judge, to the difference between that amount and his salary.
- Reduction. However, if additional remuneration becomes payable to him under section 115 of the Courts of Justice Act or if expenses are reimbursed to him under section 121 of that Act, the amounts to which he is entitled under this section shall be reduced accordingly.
- Monies required. The monies required for the purposes of this section shall be provided by Ville de Québec.
- Applicability. The provisions of this section apply notwithstanding the third paragraph of section 240 and section 242 of the Act to reform the municipal territorial organization of the metropolitan regions of Montréal, Québec and the Outaouais (2000, chapter 56).
- Terms of office. 58. The terms of office of the judge responsible for the court and the coordinating judge of the Municipal Court of Ville de Montréal end upon the appointment of a president judge for that court, in accordance with section 25 of the Act respecting municipal courts, as amended by this Act. They are entitled to receive the additional remuneration attached to their office until the end of the term for which they had been appointed.
- Associate chief judge. The associate chief judge of that court ceases to hold that office upon the appointment of a president judge. He is then entitled, until such time as his salary as a judge of that court reaches the amount of his combined salary and additional remuneration at the time he ceased to hold that office, to the difference between that amount and his salary.

- Continuity. 59. Notwithstanding the third paragraph of section 240 of the Act to reform the municipal territorial organization of the metropolitan regions of Montréal, Québec and the Outaouais (2000, chapter 56), the judges in office at the former Municipal Court of Ville de Montréal on 31 December 2001 became judges of the new Municipal Court of Ville de Montréal.
- Governing provisions. 60. The judges of the Municipal Court of Ville de Laval are governed as regards their status and remuneration by the provisions of the Charter of the City of Laval (1965, 1st session, chapter 89) applicable to them, which remain in effect solely for those purposes.
- Remuneration. However, the remuneration of the judges is that to which they are entitled on 30 June 2001 under the provisions applicable to them at that time and, thereafter, the remuneration determined in their regard pursuant to section 246.44 of the Courts of Justice Act.
- Municipal Court of Ville de Laval. 61. The Municipal Court of Ville de Laval is maintained and is deemed to have been established in accordance with the Act respecting municipal courts.
- New municipal courts. The new municipal courts established by section 234 of the Act to reform the municipal territorial organization of the metropolitan regions of Montréal, Québec and the Outaouais (2000, chapter 56) are deemed to have been established in accordance with the Act respecting municipal courts.
- Jurisdiction. 62. The repeal by section 52 of this Act of the provisions of the Charter of the City of Laval relating to the Municipal Court does not entail, by that sole fact, a loss of jurisdiction of the court in matters pending on 30 June 2002.
- Municipal judges. 63. The municipal judges designated for assignment to the new municipal courts of Montréal and Québec under the second paragraph of section 240 of the Act to reform the municipal territorial organization of the metropolitan regions of Montréal, Québec and the Outaouais remain competent to finish, without remuneration in that capacity, the matters they began in an amalgamated court, even if they must exercise their functions on an exclusive basis in the new courts to which they are assigned.
- Municipal judges. 64. The municipal judges designated by the chief judge of municipal courts under section 10 or 12 of Order in Council 1494-2001 dated 12 December 2001 remain competent to finish the matters they began in that capacity in the new municipal courts of the cities of Gatineau, Lévis, Longueuil, Montréal and Québec, even if they are not subsequently designated for assignment to those new courts under the second paragraph of section 240 of the Act to reform the municipal territorial organization of the metropolitan regions of Montréal, Québec and the Outaouais.
- Powers of two justices of the peace. 65. The judges of the municipal courts of the cities of Laval, Montréal and Québec retain their powers of two justices of the peace for the purposes of the Acts of the Parliament of Canada which require that competence, in respect of proceedings brought before their respective court before 1 July 2002, until the conclusion of the proceedings, including on appeal.

Judicial Code of Ethics.

66. The judges of the municipal courts of the cities of Laval, Montréal and Québec shall remain subject to the Judicial Code of Ethics, approved by Order in Council 643-82 dated 17 March 1982, until the coming into force of the provisions of the Code of ethics of municipal judges to be adopted by the Conseil de la magistrature in respect of municipal judges exercising their functions on a full-time and exclusive basis.

Time limit.

67. Notwithstanding section 5.3.1 of the Courts of Justice Act, enacted by section 34, the time limit within which Ville de Montréal and the Commission administrative des régimes de retraite et d'assurances may enter into an agreement pursuant to section 31 of chapter 8 of the statutes of 2001 is extended to 31 December 2002.

Assistant to and secretary of chief judge.

68. The assistant to and the secretary of the chief judge of municipal courts in office on 1 July 2002 become employees of the Ministère de la Justice. They are deemed to have been appointed in accordance with the Public Service Act (R.S.Q., chapter F-3.1.1).

Conditions of employment.

The Conseil du trésor shall determine their classification, remuneration and any other condition of employment applicable to them.

Length. 144. The length of conditional release is the time remaining to be served by the offender at the time conditional release is granted, to which any remission time standing to the credit of the offender must be added.

Eligibility. 145. An offender becomes eligible for conditional release

(1) after serving seven years of imprisonment, in the case of an offender sentenced to life imprisonment as a maximum sentence ;

(2) after serving one half of the sentence of imprisonment imposed by the court or ten years, whichever is shorter, in the case of a sentence of imprisonment of two years or more, where the circumstances set out in section 743.6 of the Criminal Code apply ; or

18. The said Act is amended by inserting the following division after section 74:

Terminal illness.

“74.1. Except in the case of a pensioner, an employee who has ceased to participate in the plan and who, according to a medical certificate, is suffering from an illness likely to lead to death within a period of two years is, if the employee is entitled only to a deferred pension or to an actuarially reduced pension under section 50, entitled to receive the higher of the following amounts:

(1) the total contributions with interest accrued up to the date of receipt of the application;

(2) the actuarial value of the employee’s pension and additional benefits established on that date in accordance with the actuarial assumptions and methods determined by regulation under section 46.1 of the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan (chapter R-10).

Applicability.

The first paragraph also applies to an employee who provides such a certificate and who, if he or she ceased to participate in the plan on the date of receipt of the application by the Commission, would be entitled to only one of the pensions referred to in that paragraph. However, an employee who receives the amount ceases to participate in the plan on that date and, subject to section 74.6, is not considered to be an employee even if he or she continues to hold pensionable employment after the date of receipt of the application.

Interest.

The amount referred to in the first paragraph bears interest, compounded annually, at the rates determined for each period under Schedule VI to the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan, from the date of receipt of the application to the date on which the refund is made.

- Contributions.           “74.2. For the purposes of section 74.1, contributions include the amounts referred to in section 71, except amounts paid by the employee for the acquisition of a pension credit. The total of the contributions shall be established having regard to sections 72 to 74.
- Refund.                   “74.3. The refund of the amount referred to in section 74.1 precludes entitlement to any other benefit, advantage or refund under the plan.
- Cancellation.           “74.4. The spouse of an employee referred to in the first and second paragraphs of section 74.1 may, upon the death of the employee, obtain that the refund of the amount referred to in that section be cancelled if the spouse applies therefor to the Commission before the amount is received. In such a case, the application for a refund is deemed never to have been made.
- Resumption of participation.           “74.5. An employee who has ceased to participate in this plan pursuant to the second paragraph of section 74.1 and who, at the end of a period of two years from the date on which the application for a refund of the amount referred to in that section is received, holds pensionable employment under this plan may elect to resume participation in the plan by sending a notice to that effect to the Commission. Notwithstanding section 3, the employee’s participation in the plan shall begin on the date on which the notice is received by the Commission.
- Years of service credited prior to refund.           “74.6. An employee who has availed himself or herself of the first or second paragraph of section 74.1 may be credited with the years or parts of a year of service that had been credited before the date of the refund if the employee applies therefor and pays an amount equal to the amount that was refunded to the employee, with interest, compounded annually, at the rates determined for each period in Schedule VI to the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan. The interest runs from the date of the refund until the date of the redemption proposal made by the Commission.
- Payment.                 The amount established under the first paragraph is payable either in cash or by instalments spread over the period and at the intervals determined by the Commission. If paid by instalments, the amount bears interest, compounded annually, at the rate in force on the date of receipt of the application, computed from the date on which the redemption proposal made by the Commission expires.
- Years of service credited.           “74.7. An employee who has availed himself or herself of the second paragraph of section 74.1 may be credited with the years and parts of a year of service pertaining to the period during which the employee would have participated in the plan, had it not been for the application of that paragraph, if the employee applies therefor and pays an amount equal to the contribution the employee would have paid if he or she had participated in this plan, with interest, compounded annually at the rates determined for each period under Schedule VI to the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan. The interest runs from the mid-point of each year up to the date of the redemption proposal made by the Commission. However, where the years and parts of a year of service are credited to the employee, section 17 applies as though the employee had been a member of this plan during that period.

Payment.

The amount established under the first paragraph is payable either in cash or by instalments spread over the period and at the intervals determined by the Commission. If paid by instalments, the amount bears interest, compounded annually, at the rate in force on the date of receipt of the application, computed from the date on which the redemption proposal made by the Commission expires.

Provisions applicable.

“74.8. Sections 59.2 to 59.5 of the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan apply, with the necessary modifications, to an employee referred to in section 74.1 who, under subdivision 3 of Division II of Chapter II, had years or parts of a year counted under the plan and obtained pension credit in respect thereof.”

However, during the year in which the employee begins to participate in the plan, the days comprised between 1 January and the first day on which the employee holds pensionable employment shall not be considered for the purposes of eligibility. Application for redemption.

However, in cases where the application for redemption of a period of absence without pay is received by the Commission more than six months after the end of the period of absence, the amount required of the employee to pay the redemption cost is determined in accordance with the tariff established by regulation, on the basis of the pensionable salary established under section 14 at the time of receipt of the employee's application, according to the number of days and parts of a day to be redeemed out of the pensionable days, calculated on the basis of the annual remuneration. - Pensionable days credited.                   The teacher may not be credited with less than 10 pensionable days in respect of the same school or calendar year, as the case may be, unless the number of days is less than 10. In such a case, the teacher may be credited with all those days.
- Redemption of period
of absence.                To redeem a period of absence, a teacher must be contributing to the plan on the date the application is received by the Commission which must be subsequent to the date of the end of the period of absence except if pursuant to section 18 or 19 the teacher does not pay contributions. However, such a period may also be redeemed if, at the end of the period, the teacher is no longer contributing to the plan by reason of eligibility for a pension or death, by reason of a transfer agreement entered into under section 158 of the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan or, where the teacher contributed after the period of absence, if the teacher’s application for redemption and pension application are received simultaneously by the Commission.

- Cessation of membership.               A teacher who ceases to participate in the plan after a period of absence without pay of 30 consecutive days or less for which only part of the amount to be withheld pursuant to section 29.0.1 has been withheld may also be credited with that part of the period of absence for which no amount has been so withheld.”

Application for redemption.

However, where the application for redemption of a period of absence without pay is received by the Commission more than six months after the end of the period of absence without pay, the amount required of a teacher to pay the redemption cost is determined on the basis of the pensionable salary established under section 11 at the time of receipt of the teacher’s application, according to the number of days or parts of a day to be redeemed out of the number of pensionable days, calculated on the basis of the annual remuneration. Such cost is determined in accordance with the rate established by a regulation made under section 25 of the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan (chapter R-10). The regulation may also provide for a special rate applicable to employees who are members of this plan.

Payment of redemption costs.

95. Section 66.1 of the said Act, amended by section 382 of chapter 31 of the statutes of 2001, is replaced by the following section :

Period of absence
without pay.

“66.1. An officer who has had a period of absence without pay at a time he or she held pensionable employment may, if the officer applies therefor, be credited in whole or in part with the period of absence if it consisted of more than 30 consecutive days or, in the case of part-time absence, of more than 20% of the regular time of a full-time officer holding similar employment.

The officer may not be credited with less than 10 pensionable days in respect of the same school or calendar year, as the case may be, unless the number of days is less than 10. In such a case, the officer may be credited with all those days.

Redemption of period
of absence.

To redeem a period of absence, an officer must be contributing to the plan on the date the application is received by the Commission which must be subsequent to the date of the end of the period of absence except if the officer does not pay contributions under section 60 or 67. However, an officer may also redeem such a period if, at the end of the period of absence, the officer is no longer contributing to the plan by reason of disability, eligibility for a pension, death by reason of a transfer agreement entered into under section 158 of the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan or, where the officer contributed after the period of absence, if the officer’s application for redemption and pension application are received simultaneously by the Commission.

- Application for redemption. However, in cases where the application for redemption of a period of absence without pay is received by the Commission more than six months after the end of the period of absence without pay, the amount required of an officer for payment of the redemption cost is determined on the basis of the pensionable salary established under section 51 at the time of receipt of the officer’s application according to the number of days and parts of a day to be redeemed out of the number of pensionable days, calculated on the basis of the annual remuneration. Such cost is determined in accordance with the rate established by a regulation made under section 25 of the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan (chapter R-10). The regulation may also provide for a special rate applicable to employees who are members of this plan.
- Payment of redemption cost. The officer may, to pay the redemption cost, spread the payment over the period and at the intervals determined by the Commission. In that case, the second paragraph of section 26 of the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan applies.”

Fees.

“24.4. The Minister shall determine, by order, the fees that may be charged for the processing of an application to combine certificates of authorization and for the issue of an administrative certificate under section 24.1, as well as the manner of payment of those fees.

Fees.

The fees may vary, in particular, according to the classes of sources of contamination involved, the number of certificates of authorization concerned and the complexity of the technical and environmental aspects pertaining to the application.”

Authorization.	To be authorized, a specific proposal must be consistent with the aims of the municipality’s planning program.
Content of by-law.	“145.37. The by-law must <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1) delimit the part of the territory of the municipality where a specific proposal may be authorized, which part may not include a zone where land occupation is subject to special restrictions for reasons of public safety;</li> <li>(2) determine the procedure for an application for authorization of a specific proposal, in particular the documents to be submitted with the application;</li> <li>(3) determine the criteria to be used to assess an application for authorization of a specific proposal.</li> </ol>

“244.45.1. For the purposes of sections 244.45.2 and 244.45.3,

- “reference date”; (1) “reference date” means 1 September preceding the beginning of the current fiscal year;
- “current fiscal year”; (2) “current fiscal year” means the fiscal year for which the maximum rate specific to the category of industrial immovables is established;
- “alteration”; (3) “alteration” means any alteration made to the property assessment roll in respect of a unit of assessment referred to in section 244.45 to enter on the roll the taxable value that should have been entered,
- (a) in the case of the current roll, at the time the roll was deposited;
- (b) in the case of the preceding roll, no later than on the day before the current roll was deposited;
- “quotient”; (4) “quotient” means the quotient referred to in the first paragraph of section 244.45;
- “current roll”; (5) “current roll” means the property assessment roll that applies for the current fiscal year;
- “preceding roll”. (6) “preceding roll” means the property assessment roll immediately preceding the current roll.
- Quotient. “244.45.2. Where an alteration is made before the reference date, the quotient calculated for the current fiscal year is replaced, except where that fiscal year is the first fiscal year for which the current roll applies, in the manner provided for in the second paragraph.
- Calculation. To calculate the new quotient, the rules set out in section 244.45 are again applied, taking into account the increase or decrease in either of the totals of taxable values referred to in the second and third paragraphs of that section that results from the alteration.
- Alterations. If several alterations made before the reference date affect the same total of taxable values, the net increase or decrease resulting from all the alterations shall, under the second paragraph, be taken into account in respect of that total.
- Applicability. The first three paragraphs apply subject to the fifth paragraph of section 244.45.3.
- Alteration. “244.45.3. Where an alteration to the current roll cannot be taken into consideration for the purpose of replacing, under section 244.45.2, the quotient calculated for the last fiscal year for which the roll applies, because the alteration is made after the day before the reference date in relation to that fiscal year, its effect is cancelled as provided for in the following paragraphs, for the purpose of calculating the quotient for all or part of the fiscal years for which the property assessment roll immediately following applies, that roll and the roll that is the subject of the alteration becoming the current roll and the preceding roll, respectively.

Alteration.

The effect of the alteration is cancelled, for the purpose of calculating the quotient for the current fiscal year, only if the alteration is made before the reference date.

Rules applicable.

If that condition is satisfied and if the alteration is made before the deposit of the current roll, the rules set out in section 244.45 are applied, adjusting the total of the taxable values referred to in subparagraph 2 of the second or of the third paragraph of that section, according to the nature of the unit of assessment for which the alteration is made. The adjustment consists in increasing or decreasing the total, according to whether the alteration results in a decrease or increase in the taxable values previously entered on the preceding roll, by an amount equal to the amount of the variation arising from the alteration.

Separate adjustments.

If several separate adjustments are required, under the third paragraph, to be made to the same total of taxable values for the purpose of calculating the quotient for the current fiscal year, an overall adjustment shall be made taking into account the net increase or decrease that results from all the alterations giving rise to those separate adjustments.

Rules applicable.

If the condition provided for in the second paragraph is satisfied and if the alteration is made after the day before the current roll is deposited, the rules set out in section 244.45 shall be applied, without reference, despite section 244.45.2 where the current fiscal year is not the first fiscal year for which the roll applies, to any variation arising from the alteration in the taxable values previously entered on the preceding roll.”

(2) the divisor total is the total of the taxable values of the residential units of assessment other than units in which there are six or more dwellings, according to the property assessment roll immediately preceding the roll referred to in the first paragraph, as that preceding roll stands on the day before the deposit referred to in subparagraph 1.

Ratio.

The divisor is the ratio obtained by dividing the first of the following totals by the second:

(1) the total to be divided is the total of the taxable values of the residential units of assessment in which there are six or more dwellings, according to the roll referred to in the first paragraph, as that roll stands on the day of its deposit;

(2) the divisor total is the total of the taxable values of the residential units of assessment in which there are six or more dwellings, according to the property assessment roll immediately preceding the roll referred to in the first paragraph, as that preceding roll stands on the day before the deposit referred to in subparagraph 1.”;

of the Act respecting Access to documents held by public bodies and the Protection of personal information or with a public utility for a price corresponding to the price usually charged by an undertaking generally performing such work ;

(2) to a contract covered by the regulation in force made under section 100.

“94. Any contract involving an expenditure of less than $100,000, from among the contracts referred to in the second paragraph of section 93, may be awarded only after a call for tenders, by way of written invitation, to at least two insurers, contractors or suppliers, as the case may be.

The first sentence of the fourth paragraph and the sixth, seventh and eighth paragraphs of section 95 apply to the awarding of a contract referred to in the first paragraph of this section.

Expenditure of $100,000 or more.

“95. Any contract involving an expenditure of $100,000 or more, from among the contracts referred to in the first paragraph of section 93, may be awarded only after a call for tenders by way of an advertisement published in a newspaper circulated in the transit authority’s area of jurisdiction.

Publication.

In the case of a construction, supply or services contract, the call for public tenders must be published by means of an electronic tendering system accessible both to contractors and suppliers having an establishment in Québec and to contractors and suppliers having an establishment in a province or territory covered by an intergovernmental agreement on the opening of public procurement applicable to the transit authority and in a newspaper that is circulated in the transit authority’s area of jurisdiction or, if it is not circulated therein, that is a publication specialized in the field and sold mainly in Québec. In the case of a supply or services contract, the electronic tendering system to be used for the publication of the call for public tenders shall be the system approved by the Government.

Interpretation :

For the purposes of the second paragraph,

“construction contract”;

(1) “construction contract” means a contract regarding the construction, reconstruction, demolition, repair or renovation of a building, structure or other civil engineering work, including site preparation, excavation, drilling, seismic investigation, the supply of products and materials, equipment and machinery if these are included in and incidental to a construction contract, as well as the installation and repair of fixtures of a building, structure or other civil engineering work ;

“supply contract”;

(2) “supply contract” means a contract for the purchase, lease or rental of movable property that may include the cost of installing, operating and maintaining property ;

“services contract”.

(3) “services contract” means a contract for supplying services that may include the supply of parts or materials necessary to the supply.

Time limit.

The time limit for receipt of tenders must not be less than eight days. However, in the case of tenders in relation to a contract referred to in the second paragraph, the time limit for the receipt of tenders must not be less than 15 days.

- Call for public tenders. A call for public tenders in relation to a contract referred to in the second paragraph may stipulate that only tenders that meet one of the following conditions will be considered :
- (1) they are submitted by contractors or suppliers, in addition to contractors or suppliers having an establishment in Québec, who have an establishment in a province or territory covered by an intergovernmental agreement on the opening of public procurement applicable to the transit authority ;
  - (2) the goods concerned are produced in the territory comprising Québec and any such province or territory.
- Restrictions. Tenders may not be called for nor may the contracts resulting therefrom be awarded except on a fixed price or unit price basis.
- Requirements. All tenders must be opened publicly in the presence of at least two witnesses, on the date and at the time and place mentioned in the call for tenders. All tenderers may be present at the opening of the tenders. The names of the tenderers and their respective prices must be declared aloud on the opening of the tenders.
- Lowest tender. Subject to sections 96 and 96.1, a transit authority may not, without the prior authorization of the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Greater Montréal, award the contract to any person other than the person who submitted the lowest tender within the prescribed time. However, where it is necessary, to comply with the conditions for a government grant, that the contract be awarded to a person other than the person who submitted the lowest tender within the prescribed time, the transit authority may, without that authorization, award the contract to the person whose tender is the lowest among the tenders submitted within the prescribed time that fulfil the conditions for the grant.”
- 2001, c. 23, s. 96, am. 267. Section 96 of the said Act is amended by replacing “A” in the first line of the first paragraph by “Subject to section 96.1, a”.
- 2001, c. 23, s. 96.1, added. 268. The said Act is amended by inserting the following section after section 96 :
- Bid weighting and evaluating system. “96.1. Where a contract for professional services is to be awarded, a transit authority must use a system of bid weighting and evaluating whose establishment and operation are consistent with the following rules :
- (1) the system must have a minimum of four evaluation criteria in addition to price ;
  - (2) the system must provide for the maximum number of points that may be assigned to a tender for each of the criteria other than price ; that number may not be greater than 30 out of a total of 100 points that may be assigned to a tender for all the criteria ;

(3) the transit authority shall establish a selection committee consisting of at least three members, other than members of the board of directors, which must

- (a) evaluate each tender without knowing the price ;
- (b) assign a number of points to the tender for each criterion ;
- (c) establish an interim score for each tender by adding the points obtained for all the criteria ;
- (d) as regards the envelopes containing the proposed price, open only those envelopes from persons whose tender has obtained an interim score of at least 70, and return the other envelopes unopened to the senders, notwithstanding the seventh paragraph of section 95 ;
- (e) establish the final score for each tender that has obtained an interim score of at least 70, by dividing the product obtained by multiplying the interim score increased by 50 by 10,000, by the proposed price.

Requirements and criteria.

The call for tenders or a document to which it refers must mention all the requirements and all the criteria that will be used to evaluate the bids, in particular the minimum interim score of 70, and the bid weighting and evaluating methods based on those criteria. The call for tenders or the document, as the case may be, must specify that the tender is to be submitted in an envelope containing all the documents and an envelope containing the proposed price.

Selected bidder.

The transit authority shall not award the contract to a person other than

- (1) the person whose bid was received within the time fixed and obtained the highest final score, subject to subparagraphs 2 and 3 ;
- (2) where subparagraph 1 applies to more than one person, the person tendering the lowest price, subject to subparagraph 3 ;
- (3) where subparagraph 2 applies to more than one person, the person favoured by a drawing of lots.

Lowest tender.

For the purposes of the second sentence of the eighth paragraph of section 95, the tender of the person determined under the third paragraph shall be considered to be the lowest tender.

Other contracts.

Where a contract not covered by the first paragraph is to be awarded, a transit authority may choose to use a system whose establishment and operation are consistent with the rules set out in that paragraph. In such a case, the second, third and fourth paragraphs apply.”

2001, c. 23, s. 100, am. 269. Section 100 of the said Act is amended by replacing the second, third and fourth paragraphs by the following paragraphs :

Procedure. “The regulation must determine the procedure for awarding such a contract, requiring it to be awarded after a call for public tenders published in an electronic tendering system approved by the Government, after the use of a register of suppliers or according to any other procedure it specifies, including the choice of the contracting party by agreement. The regulation must also provide for the cases where the first sentence of the eighth paragraph of section 95 or subsection 7 of section 573 of the Cities and Towns Act (R.S.Q., chapter C-19) applies to a contract covered by the regulation.

Regulation. The regulation may prescribe categories of contracts, professional services, awarding procedures, amounts of expenditures or territories for calls for tenders, combine categories and make different rules according to the categories or combinations. It may also provide in which cases, when a system of bid weighting and evaluating is used, it is not necessary for price to be one of the evaluation criteria and provide for the cases where a transit authority must, to award a contract, obtain the authorization or approval of the Government or one of its ministers or bodies, or comply with any rules they have established governing the awarding of contracts.

Register of suppliers. Where the regulation determines that the contract is to be awarded after the use of a register of suppliers, it must designate the body responsible for the establishment of the register and for its management and financing and must set out, in particular, the rules that apply to the registration of suppliers and to their selection as suppliers who may tender.

Rate schedule. The regulation may, in respect of the contracts it specifies, establish a rate schedule fixing the maximum hourly rate that may be paid by a transit authority.”

2001, c. 23, s. 101, replaced. 270. Section 101 of the said Act is replaced by the following section :

Professional services contract. “101. A contract for the supply of services that can, under an Act or a regulation, be provided only by a physician, dentist, nurse, pharmacist, veterinary surgeon, engineer, land surveyor, architect, chartered accountant, advocate or notary, except if the service is necessary for the purposes of a proceeding before a tribunal, a body or a person exercising judicial or adjudicative functions, if it involves an expenditure of $100,000 or more or an expenditure of less than that amount where the regulation so provides, must be awarded in accordance with the regulation under section 100.

Applicability. The first paragraph does not apply to a professional services contract entered into with the designer of plans and specifications for adaptation, modification or supervision work where the plans and specifications are used and the contract relating to their design was the subject of a call for tenders.”

2001, c. 23, s. 103, am.

271. Section 103 of the said Act is amended by adding the following sentence at the end of the first paragraph: “The Minister of Municipal Affairs and Greater Montréal may, on his or her own initiative, exercise that power in respect of all the transit authorities or a category of them as regards a contract or a class of contracts.”

2001, c. 23, ss. 108.1 and 108.2, added.

272. The said Act is amended by inserting the following sections after section 108:

Only one conforming tender.

“108.1. Where, following a call for tenders, a transit authority receives only one conforming tender, the transit authority may agree with the tenderer to enter into the contract for a price less than the tendered price without, however, changing the other obligations, if there is a substantial difference between the tendered price and the price indicated in the estimate established by the transit authority.

Liability and disqualification.

“108.2. A member of the board of directors who knowingly, by his or her vote or otherwise, authorizes or effects the awarding or making of a contract without complying with the rules set out in sections 93 to 108.1 or in the regulation made under section 100 may be held personally liable toward the transit authority for any loss or damage it suffers and be declared disqualified, for two years, from office as a member of the council of any municipality, from office as a member of any municipal body within the meaning of section 307 of the Act respecting elections and referendums in municipalities (R.S.Q., chapter E-2.2) or from holding a position as an employee of a municipality or such a body.

Liability.

The liability provided for in the first paragraph is solidary and applies to every employee of the transit authority and to every person who knowingly is a party to the illegal act.

Disqualification proceedings.

Proceedings in declaration of disqualification shall be taken in conformity with articles 838 to 843 of the Code of Civil Procedure (R.S.Q., chapter C-25); an ordinary action shall be taken to obtain compensation for loss or damage. Such recourses may be exercised by any ratepayer.

Disqualification.

Disqualification may also be declared by way of an action for declaration of disqualification under the Act respecting elections and referendums in municipalities.”

2001, c. 23, s. 251, replaced.

273. Section 251 of the said Act is replaced by the following section:

New transit authority.

“251. The new transit authority shall be bound by the certification and the collective agreement as if it were named therein and shall become ipso facto a party to any proceeding relating thereto, in the place and stead of the dissolved former public transit authority or former intermunicipal transit authority on the date of coming into force of this Act.”

ACT TO AMEND VARIOUS LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS
CONCERNING MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

2001, c. 68, s. 229,
replaced.

274. Section 229 of the Act to amend various legislative provisions concerning municipal affairs (2001, chapter 68) is replaced by the following sections :

Constitution before
20 December 2001.

“229. Every commission constituted before 20 December 2001 under subparagraph 8 of the first paragraph of section 464 of the Cities and Towns Act (R.S.Q., chapter C-19) or article 704 of the Municipal Code of Québec (R.S.Q., chapter C-27.1), as those provisions read before that date, must be in conformity with section 147 of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (R.S.Q., chapter R-15.1) as of 1 January 2003.

(2) 1 January 2005.

Designations.

“229.1. In the case of a pension plan administered by a commission referred to in section 229, notwithstanding any provision of the plan or a collective agreement, an arbitration award or an order or decree governing officers and employees that the plan concerns, and until the commission is in conformity with section 147 of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (R.S.Q., chapter R-15.1) or until the date determined pursuant to section 229, whichever occurs first, under paragraph 1, becomes one of the members whose seats are provided for by the provisions of the pension plan that relate to the composition of the commission, a person of its choice who shall also be a member of the commission.

Pension committee.

“229.2. A commission referred to in the first paragraph of section 229 that continues to administer a pension plan even though the commission is not in conformity with section 147 of the Supplemental Pension Plans Act (R.S.Q., chapter R-15.1) is considered, until the date determined pursuant to section 229, to be a pension committee within the meaning of that Act.”

TRANSITIONAL AND FINAL PROVISIONS

Coming into force of by-law.

281. Notwithstanding section 53.9 of the Act respecting land use planning and development (R.S.Q., chapter A-19.1), by-law 01-01 of Municipalité régionale de comté de Thérèse-De Blainville, adopted by the council of the regional county municipality on 19 September 2001 by resolution 01-124, comes into force on 14 June 2002.

Parties to agreement.

282. Any municipal body or school board may be party to an agreement having as its object the implementation, operation or use of a broadband telecommunications network linking various buildings, among those referred to in the second paragraph, including the connection of all or part of the buildings to a communications backbone functioning as a backbone network. Persons other than a municipal body or school board, in particular the operator of a telecommunications enterprise, may be parties to the agreement.

Network.

The network must serve buildings owned or occupied by municipal bodies, school boards, other public bodies or institutions accredited for purposes of grants under the Act respecting private education (R.S.Q., chapter E-9.1). However, except where a school board is the network operator, the network may also serve other buildings.

- Sharing of ownership or right of use.      A municipal body or a school board may, with any other party to the agreement and pursuant to the agreement, share ownership or an exclusive right of use in respect of all or part of the network infrastructures for a period of at least 20 years.
- Mandate.      The parties to the agreement may give a mandate to one of the parties to make a contract for the purpose of the carrying out of the agreement.
- Rules.      The Minister of Municipal Affairs and Greater Montréal and the Minister of Education may jointly prescribe rules relating to the choice, by a municipal body or school board, of any person, other than a public body or institution referred to in the second paragraph, who or which is to become a party to the agreement. The ministers may also jointly prescribe rules relating to the choice of the contracting party, other than such a body or institution or a party to the agreement chosen according to the rules established pursuant to the above power, in the case of a contract provided for in the fourth paragraph or any other contract entered into by a municipal body or school board for the execution of work preliminary to the negotiation or making of the agreement. A rule may consist in allowing the choice of a person to be made by mutual agreement. The rules may vary according to the categories of cases the ministers define. The Regulations Act (R.S.Q., chapter R-18.1) does not apply in their respect. No agreement or contract referred to in this paragraph may be made before the rules provided for in this paragraph are in force or, thereafter, otherwise than in accordance with those rules, subject to the sixth paragraph.
- Exemption.      The ministers may jointly, on application and on the conditions they fix, grant an exemption from the application of a rule provided for in the fifth paragraph. They may, on their own initiative, grant a general exemption for any category of cases they define. If, in the case concerned, the rule for which the exemption is granted applies only to a municipal body or to a school board, the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Greater Montréal or the Minister of Education, as the case may be, may exercise alone the power provided for in this paragraph.
- Prohibition.      The ministers may not exercise the powers provided for in the fifth and sixth paragraphs in a manner inconsistent with an intergovernmental agreement on the opening of public procurement applicable to any municipal body or school board that is a party to the agreement or, directly or through a mandatary, to the contract.
- Benefit.      Any benefit derived by an industrial or commercial establishment by reason of the application of the agreement or a contract made under the agreement does not constitute aid prohibited by the Municipal Aid Prohibition Act (R.S.Q., chapter I-15).
- “municipal body”.      For the purposes of this section, “municipal body” means a municipality, a metropolitan community or the Kativik Regional Government.

- New agreement. The power to enter into a new agreement under this section ceases on 1 April 2004.
- Validity. Every agreement or contract entered into before 14 June 2002 that conforms to the rules set out in this section is valid ; for the purposes thereof, the powers provided for in the fifth and sixth paragraphs may be exercised retroactively. An agreement or contract entered into before that date that conforms to the rules set out in this section, except the rules made by the ministers under the fifth paragraph, is nonetheless valid if the choice of the party to the agreement or contract was made in accordance with the rules that applied at that time under the provisions governing the municipal body or school board as regards the choice of a party.
- Validity. The agreement relating to the matter provided for in this section that was entered into before 14 June 2002 and to which Municipalité régionale de comté des Laurentides, the Commission scolaire des Laurentides, the Centre local de développement des Laurentides and Bell Canada are parties, is valid.
- Reimbursement of election expenses. 283. Ville de Sainte-Agathe-des-Monts shall reimburse the candidates for the office of member of the council of Municipalité de Sainte-Agathe-Nord, in the general election held on 5 November 2000, for their election expenses in connection with that election.
- “election expenses”. For the purposes of the first paragraph, “election expenses” means the expenses referred to in sections 450 to 454 of the Act respecting elections and referendums in municipalities (R.S.Q., chapter E-2.2), with the necessary modifications.
- Rules. The city shall establish the rules that apply to the vouchers required from candidates claiming a reimbursement under the first paragraph.
- Jurisdiction. 284. Ville de Sainte-Agathe-des-Monts is subject to the jurisdiction of Municipalité régionale de comté des Laurentides in matters of assessment. The latter shall succeed to the rights and obligations of the former for the purposes of the exercise of that jurisdiction.
- Assessment. Any officer or employee of the city who is assigned to the assessment service or all of whose working time is devoted exclusively to matters of assessment and whose services are no longer required because the city has lost its jurisdiction with respect to that matter shall become, without reduction in salary, an officer or employee of the regional county municipality and shall retain seniority and employee benefits. No such officer or employee may be dismissed solely as a result of the city’s loss of jurisdiction in matters of assessment and, where applicable, the sixth paragraph of section 5.2 of the Act respecting municipal taxation (R.S.Q., chapter F-2.1) applies, with the necessary modifications.
- Jurisdiction. 285. Ville de Rimouski is, as of 1 January 2002, subject to the jurisdiction of Municipalité régionale de comté de Rimouski-Neigette in matters of assessment.

- Rights and obligations. On that date, the regional county municipality succeeded to the rights and obligations of the town for the purposes of the exercise of jurisdiction in matters of assessment.
- Validity. The acts performed by any person by reason of the fact that the town exercised that jurisdiction after 31 December 2001 and before 14 June 2002, are valid.
- Rent increase. 286. Where a unit of assessment belonging to a group of non-residential immovables referred to in section 244.31 of the Act respecting municipal taxation (R.S.Q., chapter F-2.1) is the subject of a lease that has been effective since a date prior to 17 June 1994 and that does not allow the owner to increase the rent stipulated to take into account new taxes for which the owner becomes the debtor, or to have the lessee otherwise assume payment of such a tax, the owner may nonetheless, in accordance with the rules set out in this section, increase the rent stipulated to take into account all or part of the amount payable by the owner by reason of the imposition of a mode of property taxation specific to the non-residential sector.
- Rent. The rent that may be so increased is the rent payable for the period, subsequent to 30 June 2002, in which the lease is effective and that includes all or part of a fiscal year for which the amount referred to in the first paragraph is payable.
- Restriction. However, the rent stipulated in a lease entered into for part of the unit of assessment that does not constitute premises within the meaning of the last two paragraphs of section 244.34 of the Act respecting municipal taxation, cannot be so increased.
- Rent increase. Where the lease is entered into for such premises among other premises within the unit of assessment, the increase in rent shall take into account only the proportion of the amount referred to in the first paragraph that corresponds to the proportion that the premises under lease are of the total of the taxable values of all the premises.
- Non-residential sector. Subject to the sixth and seventh paragraphs, the amount payable for a fiscal year by reason of the imposition of a mode of property taxation specific to the non-residential sector is,
- (1) where under section 244.29 of the Act respecting municipal taxation, the local municipality having jurisdiction fixes a general property tax rate specific to the category of non-residential immovables, the difference obtained by subtracting the amount of the tax that would be payable if only the basic rate provided for in section 244.38 of that Act were applied from the amount of the tax payable in respect of the unit of assessment for the fiscal year ; or
  - (2) where the local municipality having jurisdiction imposes the tax on non-residential immovables, the amount of the tax payable in respect of the unit of assessment for the fiscal year.

- Non-residential sector. For a fiscal year, other than the fiscal year 2002, before the end of which the lease ceases to be effective, the amount payable by reason of the imposition of a mode of property taxation specific to the non-residential sector is the product obtained by multiplying the amount determined under the fifth paragraph by the quotient resulting from the division of the number of whole days in the fiscal year that have elapsed at the time at which the lease ceases to be effective, by 365 or by 366 in the case of a leap year.
- Non-residential sector. For the fiscal year 2002, the amount payable by reason of the imposition of a mode of property taxation specific to the non-residential sector is, according to whether the lease is effective or not throughout the second half-year,
- (1) one-half of the amount determined under the fifth paragraph ; or
  - (2) the product obtained by multiplying one-half of the amount determined under the fifth paragraph by the quotient resulting from the division of the number of whole days within the second half-year that have elapsed at the time the lease ceases to be effective by 184.
- Provisions applicable. Section 491, section 244.64 and subparagraph 2 of the second paragraph of section 244.32 of the Act respecting municipal taxation apply, with the necessary modifications, for the purpose of interpreting, respectively, the words “owner”, “tax” and “taxable value” used in this section.
- Calculation. 287. Where a local municipality, for the same fiscal year, imposes the surtax or tax on non-residential immovables and fixes, under section 244.29 of the Act respecting municipal taxation (R.S.Q., chapter F-2.1), a general property tax rate specific to the category of immovables consisting of six or more dwellings, the amount of the latter tax is calculated as follows :
- (1) section 244.53 of that Act is applied as if a rate specific to the category of non-residential immovables had been fixed, which rate is deemed to be equal to the sum obtained by adding the basic rate provided for in section 244.38 of that Act and the rate of the surtax or tax on non-residential immovables ; and
  - (2) the amount of the surtax or tax on non-residential immovables is subtracted from the result of the operation described in subparagraph 1.
- Restriction. If the condition mentioned in the first paragraph is satisfied only in part of the territory of the municipality, the rule set out in that paragraph applies only in that part.
- Validity. Every element included in the advance application of the rule set out in the first paragraph is valid in any budget adopted for the fiscal year 2002, in any resolution or by-law relating to the imposition of taxes for that fiscal year and in any tax account or other document arising from such a budget, resolution or by-law.

By-laws, resolutions and acts.

288. Subject to the agreements entered into pursuant to section 250 of the Act to amend various legislative provisions concerning municipal affairs (2001, chapter 68), all by-laws, resolutions or other acts adopted by Municipalité régionale de comté de Lajemmerais and by Municipalité régionale de comté de La Vallée-du-Richelieu remain in force in respect of each of the sectors of Ville de Longueuil corresponding to the territory of the former Ville de Boucherville and the former Ville de Saint-Bruno-de-Montarville, respectively, until the date on which it is provided that their effects cease, until their objects are attained or until they are replaced or repealed.

Presumption.

They are deemed to be by-laws, resolutions or acts of Ville de Longueuil.

Effects.

Every act performed by a regional county municipality referred to in the first paragraph retains its effects, in respect of each of the sectors of Ville de Longueuil to which that paragraph applies, to the extent that the act remains expedient.

Compensation.

289. Any person who held office as a member of the provisional council of Ville de Mont-Joli and whose term of office was not renewed at the first general election the polling for which took place in that town on 2 December 2001 shall receive, from the latter, compensation equivalent to the remuneration the person would have been entitled to receive up to the date on which the polling for the next regular election would have taken place in the former municipality on the council of which the person held office had the amalgamation of the territories of the former Ville de Mont-Joli and the former Municipalité de Saint-Jean-Baptiste not taken place.

Compensation.

The compensation provided for in the first paragraph shall cease to be paid to a person in respect of any period during which, beginning on 2 December 2001, the person holds office as a member of the council of a municipality in Québec.

Presumption.

For the purposes of sections 30.1 and 31 of the Act respecting the remuneration of elected municipal officers (R.S.Q., chapter T-11.001), any person eligible for compensation under the first paragraph is deemed to cease to be a member of the council of the former municipality only at the end of the period covered by the compensation.

Admissibility.

290. Applications made under section 28 of the Regulation respecting retrospective adjustment of the assessment adopted by the Commission de la santé et de la sécurité du travail by resolution A-85-98 dated 17 September 1998 (1998, G.O. 2, 4156) by the cities of Montréal, Saguenay, Gatineau and Longueuil and by the Société de transport de la Ville de Québec, exercising the rights of the Communauté urbaine de Montréal and Ville de Saint-Léonard, the cities of Chicoutimi, Gatineau and Longueuil and the Société de transport de la Communauté urbaine de Québec, respectively, to which they succeeded, are not admissible, and Division II of Chapter V of the regulation does not apply.

- Development plan. Where the development plan does not yet take into account those guidelines, the municipality may not avail itself, in respect of that agricultural zone, of any of the powers provided for in Divisions X and XI of Chapter IV of Title I of the Act respecting land use planning and development enacted by section 26.
- Effect. 292. Sections 87, 109, 124, 138 and 268 have effect from 1 November 2002.
- Awarding process. Every awarding process in relation to a contract for professional services that has not been completed on the date mentioned in the first paragraph shall be continued under the provisions applicable before the effective date of the provisions mentioned in that paragraph.
- First regulatory amendment. 293. The first regulatory amendment made under section 573.3.0.1 of the Cities and Towns Act (R.S.Q., chapter C-19), article 938.0.1 of the Municipal Code of Québec (R.S.Q., chapter C-27.1), section 112.1 of the Act respecting the Communauté métropolitaine de Montréal (R.S.Q., chapter C-37.01) and section 105.1 of the Act respecting the Communauté métropolitaine de Québec (R.S.Q., chapter C-37.02), as amended respectively by sections 89, 111, 125 and 139, is not subject to the provisions of Division III of the Regulations Act (R.S.Q., chapter R-18.1).
- First regulation. The first regulation made under section 100 of the Act respecting public transit authorities (2001, chapter 23), as amended by section 269, is not subject to the provisions of Division III of the Regulations Act.
- First regulation. Until the coming into force of the regulation referred to in the second paragraph, the first regulation made under section 573.3.0.1 of the Cities and Towns Act respecting the awarding of contracts for certain professional services applies for the awarding of such contracts by a public transit authority, which is deemed to be a municipal body for the purposes of that regulation.

- Report. 299. The report to be made by the chief electoral officer and the Commission de la représentation not later than 30 September 2002 pursuant to section 886 of the Act respecting elections and referendums in municipalities (R.S.Q., chapter E-2.2), as amended by section 219, shall cover the period between 1 January 2001 and 31 March 2002.

- Jurisdiction. Notwithstanding section 5.1 of the Act respecting municipal taxation as amended by section 220, the assessor of a regional county municipality designated as a rural regional county municipality who, before 14 June 2002, performed acts in respect of a roll referred to in the first paragraph retains jurisdiction to perform the acts provided for by the Act respecting municipal taxation in respect of that roll. In such a case, notwithstanding that section 5.1, the regional county municipality has jurisdiction in matters of assessment in respect of that local municipality.

AN ACT TO ENSURE THE CONTINUED PROVISION OF EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES

[Assented to 25 July 2002]

THE PARLIAMENT OF QUÉBEC ENACTS AS FOLLOWS :

DIVISION I

INTERPRETATION

- Interpretation : 1. In this Act, unless the context indicates otherwise,
- “Association” ; “Association” means the Association des spécialistes en médecine d’urgence du Québec constituted under the Professional Syndicates Act (R.S.Q., chapter S-40) ;
- “Board” ; “Board” means the Régie de l’assurance maladie du Québec ;
- “Federations” ; “Federations” means the Fédération des médecins omnipraticiens du Québec and the Fédération des médecins spécialistes du Québec, both Federations constituted under the Professional Syndicates Act ;
- “institution” ; “institution” means an institution to which the Act respecting health services and social services (R.S.Q., chapter S-4.2) applies that, on 1 June 2002, was dispensing emergency services ;
- “physician”. “physician” means a general practitioner who is a member of a regional board’s regional department of general medicine or a physician who holds an emergency medicine specialist’s certificate.

DIVISION II

MAINTENANCE OF EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES

- On-duty list. 2. At the request of the Minister of Health and Social Services, the president and executive director of a regional board must, where an institution’s emergency services are interrupted or their maintenance is threatened and the Minister is of the opinion that the situation is or is likely to be prejudicial to the medical services to which every person is entitled, confer the following responsibilities on the head of the regional board’s regional department of general medicine :

(1) establishing, with priority consideration given to the physicians in the territory of the regional board concerned, a list of on-duty physicians who are to provide medical services in the emergency services facility of the institution until the Minister has indicated to the president and executive director of the regional board that such a list is no longer necessary ;

(2) informing each of the physicians whose names appear on the on-duty list established pursuant to subparagraph 1 of the time and place at which the physician is to provide medical services, enabling the physician to present observations in that respect and, if he or she considers it necessary, modifying the list accordingly ; and

(3) seeing to it that the on-duty list established pursuant to subparagraph 1 is complied with and overseeing the participation of the physicians on the list.

Elements to be considered.

In establishing the on-duty list referred to in subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph, the head of the regional department of general medicine of the regional board concerned, or the person responsible pursuant to section 3, must take into account the abilities necessary for the provision by a physician of emergency medical services. In addition, he or she must have particular regard to the location of the physician in relation to the institution in which the physician will be required to provide medical services, the frequency at which the physician will be required to provide the services and the provision of the medical services otherwise provided by the physician, particularly in the emergency services facility of an institution in the region.

Failure to establish the list.

3. If the head of the regional department of general medicine is unable or fails to establish the on-duty list referred to in subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 2, the president and executive director of the regional board must confer the responsibilities referred to in that section on one of the members of the supervisory committee of the regional department of general medicine or, where that is not possible, the president and executive director must assume those responsibilities.

Obligations of physicians.

4. Except in the presence of exceptional circumstances the existence of which must be demonstrated to the satisfaction of the head of the regional department of general medicine of the regional board concerned or, as the case may be, the person responsible pursuant to section 3, every physician whose name appears on the on-duty list established pursuant to subparagraph 1 of the first paragraph of section 2 is required to report to the emergency services facility of the institution to which he or she is assigned and to participate in the periods of duty as provided on the list. No physician shall, in providing services, reduce, slow down or modify his or her professional activity in a manner that would interrupt or limit the medical services.

Presumption.

Such a physician is deemed to have sufficient status and the privileges necessary for the provision of medical services in the emergency services facility of the institution to which he or she is assigned.

- Concerted action prohibited. 5. No physician practising in the territory of the regional board concerned shall participate in concerted action that would result in the physician reducing, slowing down or modifying his or her professional activity or in becoming a professional who has withdrawn or a non-participating professional within the meaning of the Health Insurance Act (R.S.Q., chapter A-29).
- Nullity of notice. Every notice of withdrawal or non-participation concerning such a physician that is transmitted to the Board between 1 July 2002 and 25 July 2002 is null unless the physician establishes that the notice was not transmitted as part of concerted action.
- Concerted action prohibited. 6. The Association and the Federations are prohibited from undertaking or continuing concerted action that involves a contravention of section 4 or 5 by physicians, whether or not the physicians are members of the Association or one of the Federations.

(1) the proportion were determined in accordance with the rules set out in Chapters II to IV of Title XX of the Regulation respecting the Taxation Act, with any necessary modifications,

(2) each of the amounts or other elements that were, or should have been, taken into account in computing, in accordance with the rules referred to in subparagraph 1, the proportion that the business carried on in Québec is of the aggregate of the business carried on in Québec or in Québec and elsewhere by the replacing party, for any such particular taxation year of the replacing party, other than the particular taxation year referred to in subparagraph i, that ended in the particular calendar year, or by any third party replaced by the replacing party, for any taxation year or any fiscal period of the third party that ended in the particular calendar year, were taken into account in computing the proportion, even though the amount or element is not attributable to a period covered by the separate taxation year, and
